BRITISH DENY SHIPS SUPPLYING RED CHINA

LONDON (UP)—British officials angrily denied today Communist Chinese claims that British ships are hauling strategic cargo from other western nations to Red China. The Ministry of Transport said no British ships had carried strategic cargoes to Red China at least since March, 1953, when strict new controls were put into effect. "A lot of baloney," one official said. Red Chinese trade official Lu Shu Chang told reporters accompanying Clement Attlee and other Labor Party members to China that British ships were helping bring steel, other metals, machinery and heavy equipment from France, Belgium and West Germany to the Peiping regime.

French Premier Warns Modified Plan Turndown Spells NATO Crisis

BRUSSELS, Belgium (UP)—French Premier Pierre Mendes-France warned grimly today that unless his plan for a modified treaty is accepted the proposed European Defense Community will die.

City Readies Change-Over In Streets

Victoria's one-way street system will probably be abolished this week-end.

City Council gave final reading last week to a by-law doing away with the one-way plan. The by-law now has only to be registered before the work can proceed.

The one-way street system was introduced last January on Fort, View, Broughton and Broad.

The by-law calls for all four streets to be restored to the way they were before the change. This will mean the loss of 45 metered parking spaces.

Bunche Named To High-Ranking Position in UN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)—Nobel prize winner Dr. Ralph J. Bunche was named today to a new United Nations post that will make him the highest-ranking American in the world organization.

Bunche's promotion, intended to become effective Jan. 1, 1955, was announced at a news conference by secretary general Dag Hammarskjöld. Hammarskjöld said that Bunche will have the rank of undersecretary without portfolio, will be "more easily available for missions" to trouble spots around the globe than other undersecretaries named to head specific departments.

Canucks to Quit Korea

Crusader Home September 3

The RCN announced officially today that HMCS Crusader, Esquimalt-based destroyer on her second Korean tour, will return to home port September 3. She is being relieved by HMCS Huron of the Atlantic command. A second Pacific Coast destroyer, HMCS Cayuga, is still in the Far East. RCN commitment to UN sea forces remains at three destroyers but withdrawal is being discussed today by Canadian defense department officials. Relatives and friends of Crusader personnel will be welcome to greet the return of the destroyer. Photo shows dockside crowd on hand after her first Korea tour.

100,000 Demonstrate At Government Rally

SEOUL, Korea (Reuters)

A crowd of 100,000 attended a government-sponsored rally and parade in Seoul today in protest against the United States decision to withdraw four of its six divisions from South Korea within the next few months.

A formation of 60 South Korean fighter planes flew overhead as wave after wave of demonstrators surged through the narrow streets bearing large banners.

Slogans included: "Give us death or unification." "Do not make us a sacrifice to Communism." "Remember June 25, 1950, when the Korean war started." "March north for unification."

President Syngman Rhee got word of the withdrawal late Wednesday from the South Korean mission in Washington. An immediate session of the National Assembly was called by Prime Minister Pyun Yung Tai.

The National Assembly voted for an appeal to Washington requesting that no more United States troops be withdrawn until South Koreans were strong enough to take "unilateral action."

Bulk of 6,000 Force Involved

By DAVE McINTOSH

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada "almost certainly" will withdraw a substantial proportion of its 6,000-man brigade from Korea in the next few months, officials said today.

"We expect to reduce our forces in Korea proportionately to the Americans," one official said.

The U.S. army announced Wednesday night it will withdraw four of its six divisions in Korea in the next few months.

Defense Minister Campney said withdrawal of the First Commonwealth Division—in whole or in part—now is being discussed by senior British Commonwealth army commanders at Camberley, England.

Lt-Gen. Guy Simonds, chief of the general staff, is representing Canada.

Pull-out of Canadian troops from Korea will be made with regard to the wishes of the British and Australians, also part of the First Commonwealth Division, officials said.

They added that it is still too early to say whether the Canadian brigade will be reduced in exactly the same proportion as U.S. forces in the United Nations command.

But with the U.S. taking out four of six divisions, Canada would be able to make a "very substantial" withdrawal by the end of this year.

It was believed Canada might be able to withdraw roughly half of the brigade or possibly two of the three infantry battalions and some of the artillery and tanks.

May Withdraw RCN Destroyers

Pull-out of the last troops in the brigade would depend on how the situation there developed, officials said.

Informants said they feel the Chinese Communists do not want to resume the Korean war, halted by an armistice July 27, 1953.

This was also the opinion expressed by Brig. Jean Victor Allard several weeks ago on his return from Korea where he commanded the Canadian troops for 14 months.

Withdrawal of some or all of Canada's three destroyers in Korea also is under discussion, officials said.

The one-squadron RCAF lift which had operated to the Far East from July, 1950, was withdrawn in May.

Naval forces were the first Canadian units to see action in the Korean war. They sailed for the Far East in early July, 1950, only a few days after the war started.

The advance party for the troops arrived in Pusan, Korea, in November, 1950, and one battalion of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry arrived soon after. It went into the line in April, 1951. An entire brigade was in action not long after.

Canada's dead in the Korean war total 315—309 army and six navy. The army also had 81 deaths due to non-battle causes and 1,203 wounded or injured in action.

About 27,000 Served in Far East

About 27,000 men in the three armed forces served in the Far East.

Units now in Korea are the 2nd Battalion, Queen's Own Rifles; 4th Battalion, Canadian Guards; 2nd Battalion, Black Watch; D Squadron, Royal Canadian Dragoons; 3rd Regiment, Royal Canadian Horse Artillery, and supporting units such as engineers and the medical corps.

The infantry battalions which fought in Korea came from three regiments, the Royal 22nd, Royal Canadian Regiment and Princess Patricia's. The armored unit in the Far East came from the Lord Strathcona's Horse.

Each of the infantry regiments saw one major battle for which they became famous: The Princess Patricia's at Kapyong, April 24 and 25, for which the 2nd Battalion won the U.S. Presidential Citation, and the Royal 22nd and Royal Canadian Guards in the vicinity of Little Gibraltar in 1951 and 1952, respectively.

The original brigade was recruited especially for 18 months' Korea duty and was commanded by Brig. John Rockingham of Vancouver, now commander of the 1st Canadian Infantry Division at Camp Petawawa, Ont.

As the special force completed its tour of duty, the units were replaced by battalions of Canada's regular army.

Eight Canadian destroyers participated in the war. They steamed more than 700,000 miles and fired more than 40,000 rounds of four-inch ammunition and destroyed several Communist supply trains. The Crusader wiped out four trains to become the champion train-buster of the UN fleet.

The only operational casualties were suffered by the Iroquois when she was struck by a Communist shore battery. One officer and two ratings were killed.

No. 426 RCAF squadron flew 6,500,000 miles, making more than 1,000 Pacific crossings with troops and supplies, without loss or injury to passengers, crew, aircraft or cargo.

Railway Unions Want Cabinet to Name Arbitrator

MONTREAL (BUP)—A labor spokesman said today the unions representing 145,000 non-operating railway employees would not suggest any candid for arbitration of their contract dispute with the CPR and CNR.

Frank H. Hall, chairman of the policy-making general conference committee of 14 unions involved in the dispute, said no names would be advanced by labor.

His statement indicated the unions intended to leave selection of an arbitrator to the federal cabinet.

WIRE BRIEFS

Pakistan Leads

LONDON (CP)—Pakistan today held a first-innings lead of 122 runs over Canada after two and one-half hours of play.

Pakistan was 209 for eight wickets to Canada's 87.

RCAF Pilot Killed

OTTAWA (BUP)—FO Francis P. Robins, 22, of Unionville, Ont., was killed Wednesday when his Sabrejet crashed near Grosvenor, France, where he was serving with No. 2 RCAF fighter wing, the air force said today.

These sources reported that the greater part of the meeting was taken up with Mendes-France's defense of his proposal to water down the European army plan.

The French premier opened his talk with a detailed explanation of the political situation in his country when he took over the government in June.

He described as "regrettable" the fact that France had held up ratification of the EDC plan so long, but promised that there would be no further delay.

"Any further postponement would be undignified," he was quoted as having said.

However, Mendes-France emphasized that the facts of French political life were such that the changes he has demanded must be accepted.

The other five nations insist, equally strongly, that his revisions which confine German troops to their own soil and lessen the supra-national character of the treaty are crippling and unacceptable.

Goa Parley Set

NEW DELHI, India (Reuters)—India today accepted a Portuguese proposal for a meeting in New Delhi to discuss an impartial observation of the Goa dispute and named August 24 as the date.

CHICAGO (UP)—Charles (Cherry Nose) Gioe, extortionist and one-time kinglypin of the Capone gang empire, was shot and killed in a parked car Wednesday night.

His body was riddled by seven bullets, but police said no one who saw the slaying had been found.

Two Nova Scotia Youths Held in Street Fight Death

MONTREAL (BUP)—Two youths from Sydney, N.S., were held by police today after the death of a 54-year-old man in a downtown street fight.

James Wristin, a resident of a Salvation Army hostel, was found dead, apparently from a broken neck, on the steps of a nearby building.

Taken into custody, were Emile Conn, 20, and a companion of 17 who was not identified.

Sadistic Teen-Agers Set Human Torch Afire

JUST for the RECORD

NO DELIVERY: Joseph Michaeloric, a Hempstead, L.I., substitute letter carrier, admitted yesterday he set a shoe box full of mail adrift on the ocean when he stopped for a swim while making his rounds.

The shoe box with the letters inside washed ashore at another beach 15 miles away. Michaeloric said the shoe box letters all would have required climbing stairs to deliver.

"SPF": In France the ministry of agriculture has announced the appointment of four underwater game wardens to make sure that underwater spear fishers have fishing licenses.

YIPES: In Hanover, Germany, Rudolf Amthor was fined $17.62 yesterday for biting off the finger of a bartender who sold brandy to Amthor's wife.

EENY, MEENY... In Madison, Wis., two Mrs. Robert C. Robinsons hope they get the right baby when they are dismissed from Madison General Hospital's maternity ward.

Both women gave birth to daughters within 25 hours this week.

OOPS: In Berkeley, Calif., Lucy M. Allen sent police a check for $22.56 to pay a parking fine and added a note that the fine seemed rather high.

Police refunded her $21.56 and pointed out she had paid the serial number on her citation instead of the $1 fine.

INVITATION: Scarborough, Ont., Reeve Oliver Crookford, 60, shuddered today at an invitation to open a new Lions Club swimming pool by swimming to the centre and cutting a ribbon. He can't swim.

Brooklyn Boys on Thrill-Orgy 'Love to See People Suffer'

NEW YORK (UP)—Police added another crime today to a series of senseless slayings and beatings carried out by four teen-age youths. They said the four boys drenched a man with gasoline and set him afire.

The latest known victim of the thrill slayers was Felix Jaculowski, 63, now recovering in a hospital from serious burns suffered July 21 when four youths tied cotton to his bare feet, set it afire, then drenched him with gasoline and applied a match.

Jaculowski recognized one of the four youths in a newspaper picture yesterday while reading accounts of their arrest. They were seized Tuesday and confessed to shocked officials the wanton slaying of two men, the horse-whipping of two girls and brutal attacks on homeless derelicts sleeping in Brooklyn parks.

The youth he identified was Jack Koslow, 18, described by police as the "brains" of the thrill-seeking gang. In his confession, Koslow said he hated vagrants, "wanted to beat people up" and "loved to see them squirm and suffer."

BURNED FEET
Jaculowski said that Koslow and his three pals awakened him last July 21 as he slept on a bench in Brooklyn's Washington Park. They tied cotton to his bare feet, ignited it and then sat on him as he screamed in pain, he said. Then they soaked him with gasoline, he said, applied a lighted match and "led."

As the latest incident of the gang's brutality unfolded, baffled authorities obtained postponement of the youths' arraignment so they could try to answer the big question: Why did they do it?

Juvenile delinquency and gang warfare are recognized threats in big and small cities, they pointed out. Yet the four teenagers whose crimes included two murders in two weeks fit neither pattern. They showed no previous signs of delinquency.

cy. Their respectable neighborhoods harbored no teenage gangs.

MENTAL TESTS

They will undergo mental tests before the hearing on Aug. 27 in an effort to find some reason for their abrupt siege of brutality.

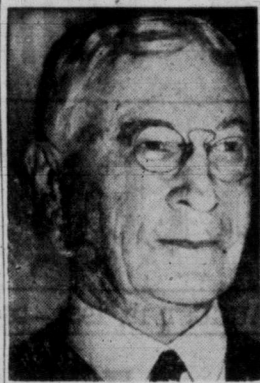

Koslow, a bright boy who bragged about nonexistent exploits, is charged only with felonist assault, because police haven't found the body of the unidentified Negro Koslow said he and the other boys beat and dumped into the river last Monday night as a "supreme adventure."

The other three boys, all residents of Brooklyn, are held without bail on homicide charges for the fatal beating of a vagrant the night of Aug. 6. Robert Trachtenberg, 15, a handsome, polite boy who never caused his mother a moment's worry; Jerome Lieberman, 17, a slight youth who liked music, had his own TV set in his bedroom and read comic books by the dozen; Melvin Mittman, 17, a brawny boy who gave a banjo solo at high school commencement last spring and was trusted as the custodian of the school locker room—these are the ruthless teenagers who terrorized Brooklyn parks.

SIMPLER: In Toronto plead for simpler psychology tests, Nora Gibbs of the Tavistock Clinic in London told the International Congress on Mental Health yesterday of a post-graduate student's report that "Marx was relatively retarded on vital manipulation in a vacuum."

"By that she meant Mary would waggle her thumb," the worker said.

Attlee Reported to Have Offered Aid to Red China

LONDON (UP)—Visiting British Socialist leader Clement Attlee congratulated China's Communists on their revolution Wednesday night and offered the Labor Party's services to the Red regime whenever needed, a Communist agency reported today.

The New China News Agency said in a dispatch monitored in London that Attlee's statements at a state banquet in Peiping received the endorsement of Aneurin Bevan, anti-American Laborite leftwinger.

"We sympathized with the Chinese people in their struggle against the forces of reaction in China," Attlee, former British prime minister, said.

Attlee said that, like the Chinese Communists, the British Laborites "brought in extensive changes" but "we were able, fortunately, to do this by peaceful and constitutional means."

Italy's De Gasperi Dies After Seizure

Led Country From Chaos

SELLA VAL SUGANA, Italy (AP)—Alcide De Gasperi, the lean old statesman who led Italy out of post-war chaos and onto the path of democracy, died today of a heart attack.

Death came to the former premier as he rested here in his north Italy mountain retreat, far from Rome and the political wars in which he had battled without respite for nearly a decade.

His passing robbed the cause of European union of one of its staunchest supporters. Italy's struggle against Communism lost one of its hardest fighters.

Although it was known the 73-year-old leader's health was failing, there had been no public hint he was seriously ill. Only after his death was it revealed that he suffered a heart attack a week ago. His condition was not considered critical until Tuesday, when the heart pains became more intense.

He suffered another attack at 2 a.m. today and died an hour later after still another seizure. His family was at his bedside.

De Gasperi had stepped down from the titular leadership of his pro-western, middle-of-the-road Christian Democrat party, Italy's largest, a little more than a month ago.

He ended his seven and one-half years as head of the Italian government in July, 1953, after losing a confidence vote in parliament. But his party supplied succeeding cabinets and a protégé of de Gasperi, former interior minister Mario Scelba, now holds the premiership.

BRINGS NEWS OF DEATH
A messenger brought the news of the death before dawn to Scelba and the premier hurried from his own vacation spot, Fluggi, to the scene of the death of his old mentor.

Known in the troublesome early days of the Italian republic as the master of political compromise, de Gasperi changed later to become a foe of communism.

The tall, hawk-faced leader first became premier in December, 1945, because he was leader of Italy's biggest party. A noted anti-Fascist imprisoned often by Mussolini, he had served since the previous April as foreign minister.

In his first two years as premier he tried to work with his nation's Communists and fellow traveling Socialists, but in the spring of 1947 abandoned the effort and in the 1948 elections inflicted a smashing defeat on the Reds.

For five years after that de Gasperi fought the Reds at every turn, battling to keep his nation closely allied with the anti-Communist West, pushing the cause of European unity.

BECAME NATO MEMBER

It was he who in 1949 brought Italy into the North Atlantic Alliance against Communist aggression, a charter member of NATO along with nations who had been at war with Italian fascism only a few years before.

CRITICAL STATUS of the European army plan is believed to have hastened the death of Alcide de Gasperi, seven times premier of Italy and foe of communists and fascists, who died unexpectedly in his villa at age 73.

MARINES LAND AFTER 140 YEARS

U.S. Force 'Guards' Canada's Fort Henry

KINGSTON, Ont. (BUP)—It took 140 years, but the United States Marines could finally say today they had taken up guard duty in a British fortress on Canadian soil.

Marines failed in their attempt to capture Kingston harbor and the Royal Navy Dockyards in the war of 1812, and Canada built Fort Henry 20 years later to prevent another try that might succeed.

But Wednesday night the fort's grim fortifications were thrown wide-open to the marines, who were invited to mount guard here during a ceremony commemorating the 15th anniversary of the Ogdensburg Agreement pledging Canada and the United States to joint defense against any attack on the continent.

Canadian jets roared overhead as the Fort Henry guard turned out in red tunics similar to those worn by the old British Imperial troops to greet U.S. Marines.

Defense Minister Ralph Campney represented the Canadian government in the ceremonies. The Canadian Army was represented by Maj.-Gen. J. D. B. Smith, commandant of the National Defense College at Fort Frontenac.

Gen. Lequell E. Shepherd, Jr., commandant of the U.S. Marine Corps, exchanged formal greetings with Lt.-Gen. Sir Hugh C. Stockwell, of the Royal Welsh Fusiliers.

Canada to Take Major Role in Building Seaway

OTTAWA (CP)—The long-awaited St. Lawrence seaway will be mostly an all-Canadian venture with the exception of an important four-mile stretch of canals and locks on the American side of the International rapids section.

But even in this part, the Barnhart Island area southwest of Cornwall, Ont., the Canadian government reserves the right to build a parallel Canadian link if Canada and the United States find they cannot get along in seaway operations.

The Canadian government, in an exchange of notes with the U.S. made public Wednesday, agreed to let the U.S. build the four-mile, $70,000,000 link at Barnhart and also do $2,000,000 worth of dredging in the scenic Thousand Islands sector.

But the International rapids section will not be left to the U.S. alone. The Canadian note, signed by External Affairs Minister Pearson, declared that Canada will immediately begin a 4,000-foot, $14,000,000 canal and lock on the Canadian side.

Civil Service Mental Health Plan Urged

TORONTO (CP)—The civil servant with his ulcer received sympathy Wednesday.

Dr. Frank A. Calderone, United Nations health official, in a paper delivered at the fifth International Congress on Mental Health, called on government administrations to recognize the fact that the mental health of their employees was as important as their physical well-being.

"In business and in industry, they are beginning to learn about human beings . . . they know that if sick leave can be reduced, it means dollars and cents to the organization. They know that if tensions are reduced, it means better parts, more parts, less discards . . ."

"All of this makes sense to industry . . . why shouldn't this make sense to government?" Perhaps it was because there is no true measuring rod on production by civil servants, or just what profit is in the eyes of the administrator, he said.

Administrators must become aware that any "profit" in ideas they are making are phantom profits so long as they are at the expense of the workers who produce.

"Gastric and duodenal ulcers, allergies, skin conditions . . . and the whole long list of neuroses and anxieties—these are the hidden costs being paid by the workers themselves."

AMERICAN FLIES ATLANTIC IN PLANE SMALL AS CAR

PRESTWICK, Scotland (AP)—Capt. William Judd completed a hop-skip-and-jump flight across the Atlantic Wednesday in a plane not much bigger than the family car.

The American hopped off from New York Sunday for Greenland, skipped over to Iceland and then made the big jump to Scotland.

The last leg took seven hours and 30 minutes of flying. It was his 121st Atlantic crossing—120 as an airline pilot.

The Birth of SEATO

IT IS COMMONLY SAID THAT the proposed defense system in the south Pacific will be the counterpart and facsimile of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in Europe. That, unfortunately, is a gross oversimplification. SEATO cannot be the same as NATO, since each must live in an entirely different climate.

The forthcoming conference of powers directly interested in the safety of southeast Asia will soon encounter the bewildering conflicts of this region.

In Europe all the partners of NATO agreed from the beginning on fundamentals and all of them belonged to the same Western civilization. Moreover, they were installed at the strategic heart of the continent, directly beside the line of communist power.

Those conditions do not hold in Asia. There is no agreement on fundamentals of policy between the Western nations and many of the Asiatic nations, notably India. The principle of collective security, as advocated by the United States, Britain and their friends who are trying to maintain a fragile neutrality in the world struggle. Moreover, the Western peoples and the Asiatics came out of different civilizations and take very different views of life.

SEATO, therefore, cannot hope, for the present anyway, to include some of the most important non-communist Asiatic states. They not only refuse to join; they regard the whole project as dangerous and likely to increase frictions with the communist world.

The new defense community will probably include the United States, Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand, Pakistan, Thailand and the Philippines.

This membership will be by no means ideal, since it omits such states as India at the centre of the struggle. Yet, in Pakistan, Thailand and the Philippines it will include a pretty substantial segment of the Asiatic races; and two of these states, Pakistan and Thailand, lie directly in the path of possible communist aggression.

Such an alliance cannot be reasonably called a mere attempt by the white man to dominate the colored peoples, to revive the old evil of colonialism. For Pakistan and the Philippines have become free nations by the consent of Britain and the United States. Of themselves they stand as proof of the West's good intentions toward Asia.

We may be sure that the West's motives will be skillfully misrepresented in China and Russia, may be widely misunderstood in India also, for the time being anyway. Nevertheless, SEATO must go ahead in one form or other if any line is to be drawn against communist expansion.

The work of organizing a defense system in this region cannot be done overnight, as it was done in Europe. Certainly the West can concert military power around the fringes of Asia and install it in such strategic inner areas as Pakistan and Thailand, but the problem is more political than military.

Essentially it is the problem of convincing the Asiatics that the West has no purpose but their defense and its own—and not against communism as a theory of government, but only against aggression, whatever its source.

It will take time to reassure most of Asia. This cannot be done merely by a show of military strength. Power alone is likely to have precisely the opposite result. If the West is to secure the support of the Asiatics it must earn their friendship by economic assistance, by a willingness to trade with them (the most practical form of aid), and, above all, by accepting them in the councils of mankind as friends and equals.

For these reasons SEATO, which begins as a military experiment, is really an experiment, without precedent, in the relationship between two civilizations. If they cannot learn to live together no civilization is likely to last long.

New Look and Old

WHEN THE PRESENT AMERICAN Government came to office in 1953 it decided to take a "New Look" at the nation's defenses. As The Christian Science Monitor observes, the "New Look" turns out to be only a mirage.

Essentially the Government's policy was to cut down the cost of the military establishment without reducing its strength. By concentrating on air power and atomic weapons it hoped to maintain the national safety and, at the same time, reduce taxes. Accordingly, the budget of the army and the appropriations for conventional weapons were cut and taxes were reduced. Thus began Mr. Dulles' famous doctrine of "instant, massive retaliation" as a method of buying safety at a bargain price.

The events of the last six months have destroyed those earlier assumptions. In Korea and again in Indo-China it was discovered that the power of atomic retaliation is quite irrelevant to any war but a world war. Only if the United States is prepared to launch a world war can it rely solely or mainly on atomic striking power. In peripheral wars against local aggression it must rely on conventional weapons and methods.

Hence the American Government is quietly revising its over-all defense plan. It has postponed indefinitely its decision to reduce the standing army next June. It announces the formation of a National Guard of the United States which will provide about a million and a half men in reserve, thoroughly trained, organized in fighting divisions and ready for mobilization within a month. Altogether it intends to maintain some six million trained men in all the armed services and in the reserves.

These decisions represent a deep change in Washington's strategic thinking and undoubtedly a change for the better. But they will cost money and perhaps some political embarrassment.

Already the budget for the army reserve has been raised from $1.5 billion to $3 billion and the army is asking for much larger additional appropriations.

Some of the drastic defense economies effected in the current budget may have to be repealed. Since the national budget is still heavily in deficit (though closer to balance than the government had expected earlier in the year) any extra military costs may involve increased taxes later on.

In any case, manpower policies and the enforcement of the draft will have to be tightened up to attain the goals now set.

All these are painful decisions, especially when they deny the easy hopes and false premises accepted until the Indo-Chinese disaster exploded them. But it is greatly to the government's credit and a tribute to President Eisenhower's courage that the hard facts are being faced.

An Autumn Session?

MR. ARNOLD WEBSTER, LEADER of the C.C.F. in British Columbia (whose return to health will be welcomed by everybody) urges Premier Bennett to call the Legislature into session before the end of the year.

Much public business, Mr. Webster says, awaits the Legislature's consideration. He mentions, for example, the government's contract with the Frobisher interests on the Yukon River; the problem of selling Peace River gas in the United States; and Mr. Bennett's recent mysterious dealings with the Aluminum Company at Kitimat. Such matters, Mr. Webster believes, should be discussed by the Legislature without delay.

There is some merit in his suggestion. It must be remembered, however, that the responsibility of summoning the Legislature rests solely with the Crown's adviser. It is for the Premier and him alone to decide, within the broad provisions of the constitution, when he should consult the representatives of the people.

Unless some extraordinary issue is involved, the date of legislative sessions is mainly a matter of convenience. Some former governments attempted to shift the annual session from the spring to the autumn but this arrangement did not appeal to most members. They prefer to begin their business early in the year.

The present spring schedule has some serious disadvantages. It leaves the budget of the next fiscal year, beginning April 1, to the last minute. Mr. Bennett might well consider whether regular autumn sessions are preferable. He is not bound, however, by the wishes of the Opposition. His only duty is to manage the public business as he thinks best, and if the Legislature is dissatisfied it can easily discipline him.

No extraordinary issue has appeared lately to demand a sudden meeting of the Legislature. Mr. Bennett's recent statements about the Kitimat contract require elucidation and, as Mr. Laing says, might well go before a legislative committee, but this matter can wait for the time being. Mr. Bennett must also seek the Legislature's approval of the Yukon deal but it is by no means complete yet since it must secure the permission of the federal government. Nor does it appear that the Legislature could do anything constructive about the sale of Peace River gas at the moment.

Mr. Bennett is therefore entitled to meet the House at his own convenience.

LOOSE ENDS

Man and Politician

EARLIER this year, from Washington, I ventured certain comments on the agonizing dilemma of Mr. Eisenhower. Speaking as an ignorant foreigner and as an admirer of the President, I respectfully suggested that he might become one of the giants of American history or one of its most notable tragedies.

There was nothing remarkable about that comment. The President's dilemma was already commonplace, obvious and widely discussed among his own people. But it is remarkable and important, I submit, that the President himself seems lately to have grasped these things, clarified his own mind, taken his courage in his hands and decided to fight the forces that could destroy him.

To a foreigner, anyway, his latest public statements are by far the most significant, penetrating and hopeful he has ever made.

Curiously enough, it was always his considered and written statements that got him into trouble in the past. "Instant, massive retaliation," the "unleashing" of Chiang Kai-shek against China, the policy of "liberating" communist states, the repeal of the former policy of "containment," the "new look" at the military establishment and "united action" in Asia—all these terrifying phrases were not off-the-cuff comments by a worried man at a press conference. They were the formal statements of the Government. And they proved to be deadly boomerangs. Mr. Truman, on the other hand, invariably got into trouble when he thought aloud without preparation.

THE interesting and intensely human fact emerging from Mr. Eisenhower's recent bouts with the press is now perfectly plain. It is that this man always appears at his worst when he tries to operate as a politician, according to the professional rules of the political craft. He always appears at his best when he is himself.

He certainly appeared at his best the other day when he forgot discretion and said precisely what he thought.

First, he let himself go as he has never done before and delivered a passionate defense of his old comrade, General Marshall, who had been slurred as usual by Senator McCarthy.

HERE one could see not only the President's anger but his regret. In the 1952 campaign he had decided to defend General Marshall but was dissuaded from speaking lest he antagonize Senator McCarthy. Acting on the advice of the professionals of the Republican Party, he appeared the Senator, with familiar results.

That was a tragic mistake and the President obviously knows it. Now he says what he really thinks and his statement is all the more impressive and moving because it is delivered without preparation, without ornament and without much regard to syntax. It is, in fact, the colloquial and candid statement of a fine and simple man, too long hidden under the alien disguises of politics.

SECONDLY, the President repudiated his other comrade of the war, General Mark Clark, who proposed to smash the United Nations, and he went on to repudiate the whole idea of preventive war.

Thirdly, and most significant of all, the President undertook to tell his people that they are inclined to misunderstand their international position and their relations with the world. There is far too much talk, he said, about American "leadership" and not enough about American "partnership" among the free peoples. The Americans, he added, should not brag so much about their power; they should concentrate on the job of deserving it. He coined a new phrase to cover the United States' true position—it should be, he said, a "good partner."

MR. Eisenhower is that sort of man himself but the professionals have tried to make him over in their own image and have grievously botched that job of disguise. When he forgets their advice, when he behaves as himself, speaks his own mind and appears in public as he lives in private he does not look like a tragic figure, imprisoned by circumstance; he looks like a massive and historic figure who of himself could alter the whole course of American history.

Undoubtedly he and he alone among all Americans has that power because, more than any man, he has the confidence and the affection of his people, regardless of party lines.

THE sovereign question of American politics today—the decisive question in Mr. Eisenhower's career—is whether he will use that power according to his own instincts.

That, of course, is why the imminent Congressional election is so important. It will show whether the President is prepared to take things into his own hands, to thrust aside the professionals and to be like Ike. His latest revealing statements suggest that he intends to do these things. It is certainly very late, but not too late.

As Our Readers See It

HORSES AND HUMANS

I have been reading the objections to rodeos here in B.C. As one who loves all animals, and would not see them hurt as many are, may I ask some of these objectors why they have not objected to horse racing?

Horse racing to my mind is just as cruel if not more so than rodeo, and it brings big money into the hands of many who do not need it.

Has it ever struck any of these objectors that those animals just love the work they do in rodeo, and also do they know some of these cowboys treat or have treated their wives and families in a manner they never would have treated their horses, and do they know mental treatment is worse than the so-called brutality handed out to many horses? For goodness sake use your heads or keep quiet.

Why not get interested in something more important, such as the way many native-born Canadians and long residents are treated when it comes to old age pensions after 70? Thousands are getting $10 a month who do not need it and thousands are barely existing on $40. When it comes to Christians these days I wonder where they are. No wonder they don't go to the church of their childhood.

WELL ARMED

Re editorial comment on the necessity to be well armed in case of aggression, or as a deterrent to aggression. Being practical, and realistic, I think it is generally acknowledged that it is virtually impossible to prevent conflict; to prevent wildlife conflict; to prevent death writing finis to all our mortal endeavors. The prospect is not well pleasing. And yet the whole Christian commonwealth is founded on the grace of God.

So please, does it not seem that there is something wrong with the picture? We do not appear to be one whit more virtuous than that generation of the Second World War wherein between thirty and sixty millions of our neighbors were killed or injured. Is the grace of God of any value to us then in our efforts to attain or maintain peace?

Race for the Atomic Missile

BY JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP, From Washington

THE NATION'S highest policy-making body, the National Security Council, might do well to call in a self-assertive, highly opinionated, former German general named Walter Dornberger. The National Security Council is currently "seized" with the problem of the Intercontinental Ballistic Missile.

The ICBM, as it is known among the experts, is the weapon which will be capable of flying half-way round the globe, at supersonic speed, carrying a hydrogen warhead. No one doubts that the ICBM will one day be made, either in this country or in Russia. The question before the NSC is whether to embark on a major and ultimately very costly effort, patterned on the war-time Manhattan District, to make sure that the ICBM is made in the United States first.

On this point, Gen. Dornberger is worth listening to simply because, more than any other man, he is the father of the missile art. An engineer-scientist in civilian life, he was chosen by the German General Staff to head the war-time Peenemunde Rocket Research Institute. It was at Peenemunde that the V-2 supersonic missile, which bombarded Britain in the last months of the war, was made.

Dornberger talks in a heavy German accent, and with an absolute Teutonic assurance. This dogmatism might be irritating in another man, but in Dornberger it is impressive. For as a technical and engineering achievement, the V-2 is rated by some experts ahead of the atomic bomb itself.

Moreover, Dornberger knows our own missile effort very much from the inside—he has been working here on missiles part—at least, of the essential experimental part—since the end of the war, first for the Pentagon, more recently for the Bell Aircraft Company.

CONSIDERABLE AUTHORITY

He has also had access to the best estimates of Soviet missile progress. Thus when he assesses the race for the ICBM he speaks with considerable authority.

He says very flatly that as of today the United States and the Soviet Union are about even in this race. He says almost as flatly that the Russians are likely to take up to nine years to get an operational long-range missile into the air, with six years as a minimum, whereas we could do the job in five years or conceivably less.

But we will only win the race, Dornberger believes, on certain conditions. To explain these conditions, he compares the past and the present.

The first V-2 hit London in September, 1944. Churchill and Eisenhower have both written that the whole course of the war would have been changed if the weapon had been ready in quantity a few months earlier. Dornberger passionately believes that his beloved V-2 was unnecessarily delayed by at least a year for three reasons.

One was a dream of Adolf Hitler, that the V-2 would never reach England. This caused Hitler to lose all interest in the weapon, so that essential materials had to be bootlegged to Peenemunde. Another was the bitter political rivalry in the Nazi High Command. And the third, by no means the last, was the Nazi security system.

Dornberger has described in an interesting book he has written how Gestapo-chief Heinrich Himmler's flat feet descended on Peenemunde in January, 1944, and arrested Dornberger's best men, throwing the whole operation into chaos. The charge was that they were "more interested in space travel than in winning the war." London very probably escaped total destruction because of this ludicrous charge.

Here in this country, Dornberger says, there are no Hitlerian dreams, no material shortages, no bombings. The American obsession with security, he says, is beginning to dry up the immensely stimulating free exchange of opinion which so impressed him when he first arrived here. But, he says judiciously, the American security system still does not have the absolutely paralyzing effect of the Gestapo.

RED TAPÉ

Yet in many ways, he says, it was easier to make missiles, even when the art was wholly unknown, even under the bombs, than it is here.

He himself left the Pentagon for fear of strangling in red tape. "Over there," he says, "you could get a decision made. It was often wrong, but at least you knew where you stood. Now you have to get twenty-seven men to make any decision, all generals, all changing their jobs and their minds all the time."

The United States will only win the missile race if the essential experimental part—at least, of the missile effort is taken right out of the Pentagon, Dornberger believes.

What is needed is an organization in which the scientists and engineers have the freedom to experiment without justifying their every move to "twenty-seven generals." Above all, as in the Manhattan District, one man must be given the power to decide.

This view of Dornberger's is shared by the great majority of the most distinguished American scientists. This, indeed, is why the NSC is seized with the problem. There is bitter resistance to a Manhattan District effort—from the services which will lose empires, and from the economists, since the effort will be very costly in the long run.

Yet the stakes are high. For, as Gen. Dornberger told our intelligence services in 1945, the nation which first fully masters the new missile art will "lead mankind into the future."

Listening to the Voice of Clothing

The Christian Science Monitor

THOSE "loud" sports shirts really are talking. Recent laboratory tests prove that they "speak" in language which can be understood, at least by a microphone.

Writers have known of verbose fabrics, of course, since they first started being writers. What author has not discarded the phrase "her whispering dress" as a cliché? And many a quiet approach has been ruined in fiction by a telltale rustling of taffeta.

But this is the first time, surely, that men's wear has entered the talkathon. In tests conducted recently in a sound-proof room cotton broadcloth, denim, and linen were found to be among the chief noisemakers.

Maybe there is some sort of future in this. If materials can talk, maybe they can be trained to whisper that you are cool when the temperature soars. And it would be very useful to have your nylon shirt remind you there's a letter in your pocket waiting to be mailed.

But, speculation apart, experts soon will be hearing in the swish of milady's skirts whether she's wearing cotton or nylon crinolines. She still has a remedy, though—to wear only her older clothes, since old fabrics are quietest, the tests showed. Budget-conscious husbands might go for that, too!

MARKED for READING
SAINT JANE

Miss Austen's characters are never analysed, or explained or described in detail. They reveal themselves involuntarily in phrases which are always simple and appropriate. It all looks so easy that we never realize that perspicacity, hard work and integrity are all there, and there in the highest degree. There are few books which I should be so glad to have written.

—Leon Blum, once Prime Minister of France, quoted in The Sunday Times, London.

Calf for the Fair

UP and down our Island these days, farmers and their families are readying livestock and produce for their local Fall Fair. And not until this year did I realize the work that this entails.

It's a side of life that city people never see. But in the small towns and rural areas the Fall Fair is often the highlight of the year. It brings triumphs and tragedies, jealousies and feuds, and, best of all, good-natured rivalry and a raising of standards.

For one 12-year-old I know, the coming Fall Fair is all that counts right now. It's far more important than going back to school, swimming in the deep green potholes at The River, getting the bomber jacket his parents promised him if he kept the kitchen garden weeded through the school vacation.

Because he is an exhibitor this year. He has a calf, a Holstein heifer, sleek and plump, big-eyed and beautifully brushed, and just as quiet and gentle as she can be. With his masculine one-track mind, he can think and talk of nothing else. He'd take that calf to bed with him if his mother would allow it!

I saw the calf for the first time one day last week when we went to his father's farm to look at a piece of machinery.

When we arrived the boy was leading the calf round and round in the pasture, talking to her quietly, teaching her the feel of what it would be like in the ring at the Fair.

For a little while we watched, and the men went off, talking machinery, the children sat on the fence rail, talking calves, and the farmer's wife and I went into the house. It was cooler indoors, we said, and not so dusty. Besides, we were sick of kids and farming and calves. So we sat at the kitchen table, country style, and talked kids, farming and calves.

I wanted to know about the calf and the boy and the club he belonged to.

The club had been wonderful, his mother said. It had given him endless occupation and happiness, besides teaching him all kinds of things about raising stock, and helping him shuck off some of his shyness.

"Does it operate all year?" I asked.

"No," she said. "It starts in the spring, goes on through the summer, and then, about three weeks after Fair time, it folds up for the year. The kids have a banquet to mark the finish. Cold turkey with all the trimmings. Cakes and jellies and cookies and ice cream. A real good feed. Last year we had it at a farmer's house because there wasn't enough money to get a hall."

Just the night before, she said, the kids had had a meeting, with a special speaker to tell them about showing techniques at the Fair. He'd explained about how to lead their calves, always keeping the animal between themselves and the judge. He'd told them, too, about how the calf must stand with its feet beneath its body, not straddled or splayed out. A nudge in the ribs, he'd said, would make a slummocky animal straighten its backline. And a tap just above the hoof would make a calf change its standing position.

"It was funny to hear the kids after the meeting," said the mother. "Give them a grocery list with about eight items, and they forget half of them before they reach the store. But they took in everything the man said. Didn't forget a thing."

Two of the boys would have to sleep at the Fair, she said, to keep an eye on the calves. They'd take it in turns, and as her kid was young, he'd be paired with an older boy.

"But they don't sleep a wink," I laughed. "No," she said. "They don't. But the thrill and responsibility matter more, I think. For the one night, anyway."

The two best calves and their owners, I learned, would go over to PNE.

And sometimes when I read about juvenile delinquency and city vandalism, I think about the 4-H clubs and what they are doing for rural young Canadians, and indirectly for us all.

The July 15 issue of Maclean's Magazine had a very fine article on them, told through the experiences of the Haight family of Floral, Sask. The Haight family, including three sets of twins, have been well trained by 4-H. Their training has helped their parents to farm more scientifically, with the result that the Haight Holsteins are prize winners at every Fair in which they compete.

When I came home from this trip Up-Island, I rang the Department of Agriculture and was put on to Miss Echo Lidster. "Yes," said Miss Lidster. "There are five 4-H clubs on the Island, and 15 different kinds in the province. Food and clothing and home economics, dairy, beef, sheep, swine, honey bees."

My head was reeling by this time, and I couldn't write it down fast enough. But the 4-H sign is a clover leaf with an H on each leaf. The H's stand for Head, Heart, Health and Hands. There are 65,000 4-H members in Canada. They're aged 10 to 21, and there are 150 of them on our Island.

So when you go to the Fall Fairs being held in the next few weeks, you'll likely be seeing the work of some of these 150 members. They are the young people who quite soon will be providing the milk and much of the food our Island cities need.

So they're making elaborate plans to start gambling empires in Egypt, with the co-operation of the government there, which would get a hefty portion of the take.

'POLITICAL H-BOMB'

Otto John's Treason Sets Chain Reaction

This is the second of two stories on postwar Germany's great secret scandal, the flight of Otto John to the Communist East.

By DANIEL DE LUCE
BONN (AP)—Dr. Otto John's treason to the West is a kind of political hydrogen bomb.

In four weeks, since the Bonn republic's security chief deserted to the Soviet zone, his explosive case has:

1. Poisoned Allied-German relations and strengthened Russian diplomacy.
2. Shaken the European army project, which faces the French National Assembly's crucial vote in a couple of weeks.
3. Thrown grave suspicion that all German and Allied intelligence organizations may contain other Soviet double agents.
4. Humiliated Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's West German government and high Allied officers, who had worked here with John for years in top-secret anti-Communist espionage.

Tragedy to Trivia

The human suffering from Dr. John's defection ranges from tragedy to trivia:

1. Dead by his own hand, a United States counter-intelligence captain Wolfgang E. Hofer, is still a mystery figure. The German-born naturalized American had been John's school chum in boyhood. He shot himself when questioned by other officers in Berlin three days after John's flight.

2. Mrs. Lucie Marlen John, seven years her 45-year-old husband's senior, has been left stranded by him in the West.
3. Half a dozen night club cuties are bereft of the companionship of Dr. Wolfgang Wohlmuth, the "parlor Bolshevik" who squired John in his car into Berlin's Soviet sector the evening of July 20.

4. Glib and dapper, John is treated as a distinguished guest by the Soviet zone regime and appears to relish the West's consternation. He and ex-Field Marshal Friedrich Paulus, defeated Nazi commander at Stalingrad, now are propaganda pals in the Red "peace camp."

5. Paulus dangles the prospect of revived careers for the officers in a new German national army, and harks back to historical periods when German power in Europe was based on alliance with Russia.

Radio Comment

John is expected to become a weekly commentator on the big Communist radio station, Deutschlandsender, with his political messages beamed at West Germany.

His song is pitched in a different key than Paulus' but it means the same thing for Russia.

He declares former Nazis are back in governmental power in Bonn — the percentage actually is less than in East Germany — and that incorrigible German militarists are plotting

SMOG HASTENED 5,000 LONDON DEATHS

Doctors Report on 1952 Pall

LONDON (Reuters)—The 5,000 victims of London's four-day winter smog two years ago, were already doomed, a government report said Wednesday.

The report listed the results of post-mortem examinations on a quarter of the 5,000 Londoners who dropped dead on streets and in their homes.

Doctors and other experts conducting the examinations found that almost without exception, all the victims were already suffering from serious heart or lung conditions.

They died because irritants in the smoke-fog pall, mainly sulphur oxides produced by coal smoke, entered their lungs, causing severe irritation, a shortage of oxygen and finally heart failure.

For four gasping days in December, 1952, Londoners groped their way through the city, coughing bitterly through makeshift masks of gauze, cheese-cloth, scarfs and towels.

It was often impossible to see more than a few inches ahead and the busy streets were virtually deserted of automobiles and buses.

People took the subways or walked to work. At home, families huddled around the fire as smog seeped in through window cracks.

Hospitals were jammed. Many smog victims had so much grit in their lungs it was impossible to save them even under oxygen masks. Tens of thousands of others became sick.

Former CPR Surgeon Leaves $1.2 Million

Will of Dr. Beatty Filed in Court

TORONTO (CP) — The late Dr. Henry A. Beatty, former chief surgeon of the Canadian Pacific Railway, left an estate of $1,226,554.62, it was disclosed Wednesday when the will was filed in surrogate court.

The estate was made up of $906,311.55 in stocks, $174,132.42 in bonds, $18,430 in mortgages, $85,000 in real estate, $40,214.65 in bank accounts and a miscellaneous $2,564. Mary Beatty, a sister, was named executor.

Besides providing benefits and an income for Miss Beatty and Dr. Beatty's secretary and cash gifts for relatives and friends, the will provides the following bequests to charities:

University of Toronto, $100,000; McGill University, Montreal, $100,000; Ontario Society for Crippled Children, $20,000; Salvation Army, $20,000; Toronto Humane Society, $20,000; Church of England hospital in the Arctic, $15,000; Canadian National Institute for the Blind, $10,000; Queen Elizabeth Hospital, Toronto, $10,000; Boy Scouts Association, $5,000.

Eskimo Exiled in Arctic Will Be Free in Two Years

PANGNIRTUNG, Baffin Island (CP) — Okalik, the Eskimo, who was exiled to this northern spot 1,300 miles from his home for the shooting of two kin-folk in 1951, will return home with his family at the end of his sentence in two years, hopeful that the shooting incident has been forgotten.

Okalik was found guilty of manslaughter in the slaying of his mother-in-law, Pemik, and his brother-in-law, Arnaluk, at Padlei during a severe food shortage at the village. Evidence at the trial said he committed the crime so there would be more food for his two children.

He was sentenced to five years in penitentiary but because of bad health was exiled to Pangnirtung after serving two years to finish out his sentence. His family joined him.

Okalik, who has the freedom of the village but must report to the RCMP monthly, said the Pangnirtung Eskimos have been very friendly but his family is very anxious to return home. He said, "I hope people will forget."

The Eskimos' wife said she is sure they will be welcomed back "with open arms" when the exile is over, despite the circumstances of their leaving. Pangnirtung is on the Cumberland peninsula portion of Baffin Island while Okalik's home at Padlei is 120 miles west of Eskimo Point on Hudson Bay.

Picard Committed For Trial in Sadistic Slaying

MONTREAL (BUP) — Lucien Picard, 44, was to be committed to trial today for the sadistic sex-slaying of a six-year-old tot after the attorney-general's department issued a preferred indictment against him.

The decree, over the signature of Premier Maurice Duplessis who is also attorney-general of Quebec, was designed to speed up the trial of the short, pimply-faced accused in connection with the murder of little Raymond Trudeau.

Picard will not go through preliminary hearing as a result of the preferred indictment, issued by Duplessis under powers vested in the attorney-general by the Criminal Code.

She was found just inside the border Tuesday night, exhausted and in a state of shock. Her hands were cut and bleeding.

QUEBEC DRUG PEDDLER FACES LONG PRISON TERM, LASHES

MONTREAL (BUP) — Paul Leblanc, 34, of Montreal, described as one of the top drug peddlers in Quebec province, faced a possible 14-year prison term and the lash today after being convicted of trafficking in narcotics.

RCMP officers refused to say whether Leblanc, nabbed when he sold heroin to a police informer who paid him with marked money, had any connection with a ring exposed in New York last week when 14 key narcotic agents were arrested.

They said, however, that Leblanc had been "one of the leading narcotics salesmen in Quebec province for seven years."

Peace Real Challenge, MP Tells Sourdoughs

VANCOUVER (CP) — Sourdoughs of the Klondike were told Wednesday "the achievement of world peace challenges spiritual pioneers in all lands today."

The 1,000-odd members of the International Sourdoughs' Association were addressed by Aubrey Simmons, member of Parliament for Yukon-Mackenzie, at their 23rd reunion banquet.

"Alaska and the Yukon are an example of international co-operation and good will in a Mountain trench. Such a railway, along the route surveyed by the army engineers in 1942, cannot fail."

"The north still offers the best field for those filled with a love of new frontiers to conquer."

"It is an illusion to imagine a nation grows strong by uniformity. Diversity is the surest sign of strength and talent."

Faithful Pay Healer's Fine

Patients Claim N.S. Faith Doctor Healed Them of Cancer, Blindness

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (BUP)—Faith Healer William Ford of Liverpool, N.S., promised followers today he would try to keep his shingle up despite a $200 fine under the Drugless Practitioners Act.

Ford, 36, pleaded guilty to the charge Wednesday but said he made no charge for his services. He accepted "donations," including a bottle of whisky that cost him another fine under the Liquor Act.

Patients who claimed Ford had cured them of blindness and cancer jammed the courtroom and rushed up to pay his fines. Ford said that made up his mind to fight the conviction.

"The display of confidence that so many hundreds have shown in me is something I will never forget," he said.

"I understand there is some way I can treat these people under a license from the government. Many want me to stay, but I must first find out if there is some legal way I can continue my work."

He admitted in court he had told some of his patients they had cancer and polio and then "cured" them by rubbing their necks and backs "to draw the poison from them."

His stock in trade included witch hazel, cold cream, cream soda, packets of food coloring and colored stones in a bottle.

Mrs. William S. H. Ford said she swore that Ford had helped her to see after 11 years of almost total blindness, and had refused to accept money.

Mrs. Joe Bayley Dies in 63rd Year

Funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth Effie Bayley, native of Victoria and wife of former lightweight boxing champion of Canada Joseph Bayley, was scheduled today at 3 p.m. from Sands Mortuary chapel with Rev. P. W. Barrett officiating. Interment will be in Colwood Burial Park.

Mrs. Bayley died Monday at her residence, 893 Old Esquimalt Road in her 63rd year. She was a second generation Victorian.

Besides her husband she is survived by her sister, Miss Gladys B. Gouge of 3226 Wassauna Street; a brother, W. L. Gouge, and nephew Wilfred Jr. at 156 View Royal Avenue.

All four generations of the Gouge family have attended the old Craigflower School.

Wife of Lost British Envoy Writes Mother

LONDON (UP)—The British Foreign Office announced today that the American-born wife of vanished British diplomat Donald Maclean has written a letter to her family, postmarked from Cairo, Egypt.

The Chicago-born Mrs. Maclean wrote that she and her three children are "well and happy."

They had been unreported since last September and were believed to have gone behind the Iron Curtain to join Maclean, who, with another British diplomat, Guy Burgess, vanished from England May 25, 1951.

The letter, the Foreign Office said, was addressed to Mrs. Maclean's mother in Paris.

Mrs. Maclean's last words to her mother before she disappeared had been a casual explanation that she was going to visit an old friend from Cairo.

The Cairo postmark only deepened the mystery of her flight. A Foreign Office spokesman said: "It could have come from anywhere, we have no idea."

The spokesman also revealed that the letter bore the date Oct. 24, 1953—only a little more than a month after she disappeared.

Maclean served in Cairo with the British Foreign Service before being appointed chief of the Foreign Office's North American section in London. He held that post at the time he disappeared. Just a year earlier in May, 1950, Maclean had suffered a nervous breakdown while serving in the Cairo post.

Girl Inherits $61,000 If Man Takes Her Name

Grandad Didn't Want Family Name to Die

LONDON (Reuters)—In six or eight years, a fair-haired girl may be looking for a husband who doesn't like his name.

The girl, 12-year-old Genia Pugh, will get $61,000 under the will of her grandfather, the late Maj. Herbert Owain Pugh, if she finds a husband willing to adopt her name instead of having her take his.

The grandfather made the stipulation in his will published on Wednesday because Genia and her sister, Imogene, 10, have no brothers, and grandfather didn't want the family name to die out.

If Genia fails to find a man willing to change his name, Imogene will have her turn. If neither succeeds, another branch of the family gets granddad's money.

'Maintain Order' Edict Given New Brazil Air Chief

RIO DE JANEIRO (UP)—Brazil's new air minister has ordered the air force to "maintain discipline and order" in the current crisis, which he says has "paralyzed the nation and threatened its credit."

President Getulio Vargas appointed Brig. E. Gomes dos Santos air minister in place of Brig. Nero Moura, who resigned in the shake-up forced by public indignation over the murder of Air Force Maj. Rubens Vaz.

Vaz was killed by gunmen who tried to assassinate anti-government editor Carlos Lacerda two weeks ago. The men directly responsible for the crime have been arrested, but details of the investigation are secret.

Col. J. Adil de Oliveira, chief of the air force's investigation of the crime, says he hopes soon to be able to identify the "master mind" behind the assassination.

Compromise Planned In U.S. Anti-Red Bill

BY ROWLAND EVANS JR. WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. William Knowland of California, the Republican leader, predicted today President Eisenhower will sign any bill Congress may pass aimed at the Communist party or its members.

Knowland said in an interview he has "hope and confidence" a Senate-House of Representatives conference committee will bring out a bill acceptable both to Attorney-General Herbert Brownell and the Democrats who sponsored the original measure to ban the Communist party and punish members with five years jail and $10,000 fine.

Brownell was reported fearful the bill might invalidate existing anti-Communist laws.

The bill also would strip Communist infiltrated unions of their legal standing before the National Labor Relations Board.

The conference committee planned its first formal session today amid reports that a compromise—already has been worked out among leaders of both parties.

Just how this compromise might read could not be learned.

MAY VETO BILL
There has been speculation President Eisenhower might respond with a veto if Congress were to send him the bill as it passed the Senate Tuesday.

Knowland himself said as much just before the Senate voted to put back language making party membership a crime.

But today he said in answer to a question: "Oh, yes, I expect any bill that is passed by the two Houses to be signed by the president."

The Senate version of the bill would strip the Communist party of all legal rights, such as the right to be listed on a voting ballot. It would make membership in the party punishable by five years in jail and a $10,000 fine.

Why our recipe calls for "Whole eggs, freshly broken!"

There's one important trick to remember if you want to make a better mayonnaise:

You have to put better things in it!

For example, the Best Foods recipe calls for "whole eggs, freshly broken." This gives you a smoother texture and a richer flavor.

There's more, of course: highest grade salad oils, carefully chosen spices, choice vinegars, and added egg yolks. These ingredients are combined to make a mild, delicious dressing that blends perfectly with other salad ingredients. (Best Foods isn't strong and mustardy like the average salad dressing.)

And here's a tip: Do you ever stretch your dressing by mixing in other things like cream or fruit juice? Well remember, Best Foods isn't filled with starch like ordinary salad dressing... so it stretches much farther... saves you money!

When you taste what Best Foods does for a salad, you'll know why so many women are glad to pay a little more... and get a whole lot more... for the whole-egg mayonnaise!

ANOTHER VIEW

Ez Looks Forward To Title Rematch

Times sports editor Bill Walker is on a short vacation. During his absence nationally known columnists will occupy the space usually reserved for his daily column "It's My View." Today's guest writer is Oscar Fraley, who discusses fighter Ezzard Charles.

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UP)—An inspired Ezzard Charles looked ahead today to his rematch with heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano and vowed that "this won't be like Marciano's second fight with Jersey Joe Walcott."

There have been suspicions that Charles, who proved his courage when he went a battering 15 rounds with The Rock in June, might be a softer touch when they go at it again in Yankee Stadium on September 15. Marciano added impetus to the theory when he said:

Charles

"I'm not too proud of the fight," he said with a smile which belied his words as the two met to sign contracts. "You can't be proud if you don't win. But it's a great feeling to be admired as a fighter."

There was a time in the not too distant past when Ezzard didn't get recognition as a real fighting man. He was content to stab and run and take the easy way out. And when they criticized him he rapped back:

"This isn't a popularity contest."

Now, he knows, it is.

"I said that in anger," he admits. "I shouldn't have said it. The fight with Marciano proved to me how nice it is to have the admiration of the people. It's something I'm not going to lose."

Ezzard was a grotesque figure of a man after that first fight. His face was swollen frightfully—but at the end he still was on his feet.

"I learned two other things, besides how nice it is to be known as a man of courage," he says happily. "I proved to myself that Marciano can't knock me out and that only an accident beat me the last time."

The "accident" was a clout on the adam's apple in the eighth round and that 1,000-to-one shot is, according to Ezzard, what beat him.

"Up to then it was going just the way I wanted it to," he recalls. "Sure, I made a couple of mistakes defensively which I won't make again and I should have concentrated more on his cut eye. But this time I'm sure I'll beat him and, one thing sure, he'll find it a lot tougher to beat me."

It will be the 13th time that Ezzard has gone to the post with the title at stake. The first time he won it. Then he made eight defenses and lost it on the ninth. This is his third attempt to recapture the crown.

"I'm not superstitious," he laughed. "For me, this is the third time and it should be a good luck charm. One thing sure, as long as I can move I'll be swinging at him."

Which is all you can ask, whether he wins or not.

Lions Improved Against Ti-Cats

VANCOUVER (BUP)—The Grey Cup champion Hamilton Tiger-Cats scored two converted touchdowns in the first half and coasted to a 12-0 victory over the British Columbia Lions Wednesday night before 9,630 fans at Empire Stadium.

The Lions, a new Western Interprovincial Football Union club, failed to score for their second straight game. But a strong defensive line indicated Annis Stukus' crew had improved considerably since bowing 22-0 to the Montreal Alouettes in an exhibition tilt last Wednesday.

Hal Waggoner and Lou Kuserow crashed over for Hamilton majors in the first and second quarters and Ray Traut converted both touchdowns. A field goal attempt by Traut in the fourth quarter failed. Glenn Dobbs, Ed Songin and Travis Tidwell quarterbacked the Ti-Cats, with Johnny Mazur, Jerry Tuttle and Bob Lamphire calling signals for the Lions.

The game was played on soggy turf after a day-long rain-fall which ended shortly before game time.

There was a minimum of fumbles, although the quarter-backs had difficulty hitting their receiver with the slippery ball. Homebrew George Klein played an outstanding game for the Lions, tackling, kicking and intercepting passes. The Lions' line, paced by George Brown and Arnie Welmeister, threw the Ti-Cats for heavy losses but they failed to get an aerial attack going to match their strong ground offensive.

The Ti-Cats started scoring early in the first quarter when Tidwell completed a 40-yard heave to Hal Waggoner, who was in the clear on the Lions' 10-yard line. The convert by Ray Traut was good.

The Lions turned on a strong ground attack despite the slippery turf and marched from deep in their own territory to the Hamilton zone on three successive first downs. Kuserow capped the drive with a fast pass to Ray Enright, recently acquired from the Edmonton Eskimos, but the drive fizzled out on the Hamilton 40 at the end of the quarter.

The strong British Columbia line stopped Hamilton's ground attack cold in the second quarter. The Lions intercepted two of Songin's passes, but failed to capitalize on scoring opportunities.

The Tiger-Cats moved ahead 12-0 when Songin completed a looping pass to Kuserow, who was just inside the Lions' goal line. Kuserow dropped the ball after a moment but the major was ruled good.

SOCCER PRACTICE
Heaney, of the Victoria and District Football Association first division, will hold a workout and practice at Hollywood Park at 7 tonight. All former players and others interested have been asked to attend.

ESKS RELAX, STILL WHIP DUTCHMEN

KITCHENER, Ont. (BUP)—The Edmonton Eskimos saved their strength Wednesday night as they whipped their Kitchener Dutchmen farmhands, 28-6, before 4,500 fans, the largest football crowd in city history.

Earl Lindley, Glen Lippman, Dave West, Oscar Kruger and Gilmer Spring scored the Edmonton touchdowns. Paul Amadio scored the only major for the Ontario Rugby Football Union club.

The Eskimos didn't field stars Jackie Parker, Normie Kwong, Rolfe Miles or Frank Anderson. Reserve quarterback Bernie Faloney limped off the field after a third-quarter scramble and didn't come back.

Pils Lose Stars, Win Game; Indians All Even With Sons

Tribe in Low-Scoring Victory

Indians 4, Nanaimo 3

NANAIMO, B.C. (CP)—PNE Indians, backed by the superlative goaling of Stan Josephs, Wednesday night evened their Intercity Lacrosse League semifinals by nipping Nanaimo Native Sons, 4-3, before 2,000 wildly excited fans.

The game, a close-checking affair all the way, registered one of the lowest scores of the season.

After a scoreless opening frame, Nanaimo took a 2-1 lead in the second period on goals by Jim Heffernan and Spud Morelli, the first coming with Indians a man short via a minor penalty.

In the third stanza Indians managed to knot the score while holding the Sons to a lone marker, Harold Fox and Alfie Woods were the goalgetters.

JONES GETS WINNER

The final period saw the teams battle right down to the final wire with the deciding goal from Ken Jones' stick, coming with but minutes left in the rugged tussle.

Josephs rose to brilliant heights in the fourth period as he blocked all of the 12 Nanaimo shots, while Fred Fulla at the other end was tested three times and beaten once—and that for the deciding marker.

Third of the best-in-five semifinals goes to Kerrisdale Friday night. Sons won the opener Monday, 12-7.

Wednesday night's game was 55 minutes late in starting due to the late arrival of the Indians who were unable to fly here when bad weather grounded all planes out of Vancouver.

Former Manager Sues Kid Gavilan

NEW YORK (AP)—Boxing manager George Gainford has filed suit in Supreme Court for $50,000 against Kid Gavilan claiming that his "advice and counsel" helped make the Cuban become the world welterweight champion. Details of the action became known Wednesday.

Gainford, who once managed former welterweight and middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson, said he was contracted in 1947 to advise, counsel and create bookings for Kid Gavilan for 10 per cent of the fighter's earnings.

He said he lived up to the terms of the agreement and Gavilan won the welterweight crown and earned approximately $1,500,000. Gainford said that he never has been paid nor given an accounting.

Puck Meeting Slated

Delegates from Victoria, Nanaimo and various Mainland points are scheduled to attend a meeting of the Pacific Coast Amateur Hockey Association Sunday afternoon at 2 at the Malaspina Hotel in Nanaimo.

The famed rider scored aboard Black Bascal in the mile and a sixteenth feature, going the distance in 1:42 flat to return $6.80, $3.70 and $3.10. Class was second, Sun Deck third.

Vicki Blue appeared to be the pre-post time favorite for today's feature—the $7,500 Knights of Columbus Allowances at six furlongs for fillies and mares three years old and over.

Also in the line-up were Frost Dawn, Bubbly, Fleet Khal, Royal Grace, Ever Bright, Lap Full, Season's Best, Grey Reading and Sienna II.

Stubbys, Bombers Play Preliminary

Two all-star diaper league lacrosse teams, Blue Bombers and Stubbys, are scheduled to clash Friday night at 7 at Memorial Arena in a preliminary to the Victoria-Vancouver Intercity Lacrosse League semifinal.

Line-ups follow:
Blue Bombers—B. Spaven, R. Noble, J. Moser, M. McKay, A. Spaven, R. Fred, R. Young, R. Simpson, J. Beattie, M. Southern, P. Collett, W. Prentice, R. Jones, R. Baker, M. Holding, J. Brodie.

25 Stockers Ready for Western Meet

A field of some 25 stock cars is expected to be on hand when time trials in a stocker program at Western Speedway get under way Saturday night at 7.30.

In addition to the regular program of racing at the one-half mile dirt oval off Millstream Road, a complete motorcycle card including time trials, heat races and a main event has been scheduled.

Bike racers Al Lewis, Wes Mohart, Roy Chester and Charlie Arnold have all had considerable racing experience in Canada and the United States and are expected to be the main contenders for top honors. Chester currently holds the B.C. amateur half-mile championship.

Stock car drivers expected to show well are Bob Mawle and Billy Foster, main winners of the last two shows.

Willie's Record Higher

DEL MAR, Calif. (UP)—National champion Willie Shoemaker seemed bent on his second straight riding title today as his winning string of mounts for this year soared to 204.

Shoemaker, who already has rung up nine triumphs in 20 days of racing at Del Mar, stole the show Wednesday by booting home four winners—one of them in the featured $5,000 Petroleum Purse.

The famed rider scored aboard Black Bascal in the mile and a sixteenth feature, going the distance in 1:42 flat to return $6.80, $3.70 and $3.10. Class was second, Sun Deck third.

Vicki Blue appeared to be the pre-post time favorite for today's feature—the $7,500 Knights of Columbus Allowances at six furlongs for fillies and mares three years old and over.

Also in the line-up were Frost Dawn, Bubbly, Fleet Khal, Royal Grace, Ever Bright, Lap Full, Season's Best, Grey Reading and Sienna II.

Genial Georgians Lead In Canadian Amateur

LONDON, Ont. (BUP)—Two genial Georgians, one as lean as the other is fat, carried most of the favoritism into the "sell-all" round of the golden jubilee Canadian Amateur Golf Championship today.

Of the 16 players remaining from an original field of 172, Billy "Dynamite" Goodloe of Valdosta and Hobart Manley of Savannah, who share the same hotel room, figured to share most of the laurels.

"It'll be one great day for the Peach State if we wind up in Saturday's final," Goodloe, 34-year-old Georgia State Amateur champion, said.

Goodloe advanced into the first of today's two 18-hole rounds by a 19th hole victory over A. C. Giles of Westbury, N.Y., and a 2 and 1 triumph over Canadian big-gun Doug Bajus of Vancouver, B.C.

Manley took the measure of H. R. Pickens of Montreal, 6 and 5, and then walloped Don Doe of Granby, Que., runner-up to defending champion Don Cherry. The bald crooner from Wichita Falls, Tex., lost out, 1 up, to Joe LeBlanc of Montreal.

OTHER THREATS
Three powerful American shotsmiths lurked in the background of the more colorful Georgians, however.
They were big Bill Campbell, Huntington, W.Va., runner-up in the recent British Amateur; Harvie Ward Jr., San Francisco, 1952 British Amateur champion, and Charlie Kocsis of De-

Pilseners 10, Shamrocks 8

By DENNY BOYD

VANCOUVER—If it is any consolation after what happened in Vancouver Wednesday night, Vancouver Pilseners will be without their Big Tank and their Little Bullet when they come to Victoria Friday night for the third game of the Intercity Lacrosse League semifinals.

A snarling Pilsener club turned on the Victoria Shamrocks at Kerrisdale Arena and evened the best-of-five series with a 10-8 victory over the Victoria team. But in the process of doing so, Pilseners lost the services of big Jim Kinna and little Bobby Marsh for at least Friday's game.

Kinna was given a match misconduct penalty during the slash and chop affair for manhandling referee Gordy Folka.

The penalty carries an automatic one-game suspension. Marsh, Pils' high scorer this season, was knocked out of action when boarded by Shamrocks' Jack Bionda. Suffering two cracked ribs, it is highly doubtful the speedy Pilsener forward will be back in action by Friday.

However, it was a new Pilsener team that walloped the Irish, a far cry from the lackadaisical crew that fell before the Irish here Monday night in the series opener.

Led by Jim Anderson, whose blistering scoop shot accounted for four big goals, Pilseners scored five times in the last quarter to steal the game from the Irish. Anderson, a former league scoring champion, was every bit the part as he whipped in the last three Pilsener goals, at 8:34, 9:50 and 10:20 with the Rocks playing short-handed, to crash the Irish hopes of making it two straight wins.

Irish Too Generous With Ball

Nor was it the same Shamrock team that looked so good defensively and offensively Monday night. Giving the ball up for nothing in the first half, Shamrocks trailed 3-0 at the end of the first quarter and 4-1 at the half.

It was the expulsion of Kinna, late in the second quarter, that gave Rocks their first big break. Kinna, who had played a solid defensive game, was given a minor for pulling down Whitey Severson near the Pilsener goal. The lumbering Pilsener lost his temper and pushed and grabbed at Folka and had to be wrestled into the penalty box.

Shamrocks quickly took advantage of the defensive weakness caused by Kinna's absence to whip in two fast goals, Larry Booth and Norm Baker scoring in the first five minutes of the third quarter.

A disputed goal by Archie Browning and a hard bounce shot by Bionda gave Shamrocks a 6-5 lead at the end of three quarters. Bionda slipped another goal past Ron DeMonico in the first 12 seconds of the last heat and it appeared the Rocks would push and grabbed at Folka and had to be wrestled into the penalty box.

YOUNG INDIANS COMING FOR BIG SERIES

Archie's Kids Hit Rocky Road

One of the strongest representative junior lacrosse clubs ever formed in Victoria will this week-end hit the rocky road which could lead to Dominion supremacy and the accompanying Minto Cup.

Coach Archie Browning's juniors, playing under Esquimalt colors, are scheduled to meet mainland champion Vancouver PNE Indian Juniors in the first game of a two-game, total-goal series for the B.C. title.

Second game of the series is set for Sunday at 2, also at Memorial Arena.

If Victoria is successful, they will host the eastern champions here in September for the Canadian junior lacrosse championship.

That would be a best-of-five series, with the two teams meeting Sept. 7, 9 and 11 in the first three games. Games would be played at Memorial Arena.

ARCHIE BROWNING
... proud coach.

However, the locals must first move past Vancouver, who have proven themselves a formidable foe.

Indians have lost but one game all season and took the mainland title with three straight one-sided victories over Vancouver Rockies. Several mainland officials rate Indians on an even par with last year's New Westminster Dominion championship club.

Several of the New Westminster team of last year are now playing in the Intercity Lacrosse League.

Esquimalt recently lost a close 11-8 decision to Indians at Vancouver in an exhibition game to test the strength of the local club against mainland opposition.

In a preliminary to the first game Saturday night, Victoria juveniles are scheduled to meet Nanaimo at 7.

Blue Sail Roms to Win

YORK, England (CP)—Blue Sail, Canadian-owned three-year-old, romped home an easy winner by 12 lengths Wednesday in the mile and a half Voltigeur Stakes.

The dark-brown colt, running at 3 to 1, entered the straight in fourth place but with three furlongs to go sailed into the lead to beat Phenomenal, at 100 to 1, and Lorenzo Lippl, at 7 to 1. Narrator, the favorite at 5 to 2, finished last in the nine-horse field.

Wednesday's race was the first two for the $10,000 colt, owned by Max Bell and Frank McMahon of Calgary.

Gilmour, Halkett Tops in American

American League Kinsmen climaxed a successful Little League season by taking the majority of honors in batting and pitching statistics, Little League officials announced Wednesday.

Pitchers Doug Gilmour and Murray Halkett shared the spotlight when final results were compiled.
Gilmour led the field in the batting department, piling up a .568 average, and came fifth among pitchers with a 6.1 record. Fifty-four hits in 95 trips, 58 runs scored, 56 runs batted in, 19 doubles and four home runs, doubled up his league-leading record.

Following close on Gilmour's heels was Neil Worboys who finished with a .545 average. Lion's Robbie Clark was third with .515, and two Kinsmen pitchers, Brian Usher and Murray Halkett, shared fourth position with .500's.

Canada Hosts England In Curtis Cup Golf

MONTREAL (BUP)—British Open titlist Frances Stephens will lead her country's women golfers against the best Canada has to offer at suburban Beaconsfield next Tuesday in the British versus Canada round of the Curtis Cup Matches.

The British team is due in Quebec City by ship Friday and will stay there briefly as guests of the Royal Quebec Golf Club before entraining for Montreal.

Canada will lead off with Marlene Stewart of Fonthill, Ont., Canadian Women's Open champion. Ada Mackenzie of Toronto will rule as Canada's non-playing captain against Mrs. John Beck of England, who will skipper the visitors as well as play on their team.

In the past the Curtis Cup has stayed in Britain or the United States. Next week's competition will be a warmup for a biennial international match at Ardmore, Pa.

Eddols Faces Biggest Task Yet

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UP)—Frankie Eddols, who battled against size and a serious leg injury to become an established National League, returned to hockey's major league today faced with an even tougher task ahead—getting the Chicago Black Hawks out of the basement.
Eddols, who was named to replace Sid Abel as Chicago coach Wednesday, greeted his appointment with enthusiasm—and guarded words.
"The Hawks are basically a young club with only a few established veterans on the roster," he prefaced. "It will be my job to see that the young players develop as rapidly as possible and that the team hustles at all times. I won't make any predictions as to where we'll finish, but wherever it is, it will be after hustling through the entire schedule."
Eddols, who was named hockey's "Coach of the Year" for piloting the Buffalo Bisons to the American League championship last season, emphasized that he will now retire as a player.

Firemen Plan Mass Protest In C. Saanich

SAANICHTON—Central Saanich volunteer fire department may quit in a body as a result of council motion in relieving fire chief Victor G. Heal of fire permit duties. It was indicated following Monday night's special session here.

A meeting of the fire department has been called for today to consider withdrawal action, according to members of the volunteer department who were in attendance at the council session.

Council, after much verbal wrangling, withheld the reading of a letter, said to contain notice of resignation by the fire chief, for consideration and recommendation by the fire committee.

The fire chief's letter was addressed to Mr. Ray Lamont, who produced it at the meeting. Earlier, Reeve Sydney Pickles indicated that the council, officially, had received no notice from the fire chief.

Mr. Lamont was prepared to read the letter but in deference to the will of the council agreed that it first be considered in committee. Reeve Pickles stated that Chief Heal had been invited to attend and present his case, but had been prevented from doing so by another engagement.

WARM DEBATE

Heated debate developed between the reeve and Mr. Lamont over the controversial fire permit issue which hitherto has been the prerogative of the fire department.

The reeve, however, is on record that inspection and permits should definitely be handled through the office of the municipality.

It had been recorded at a previous meeting that chief of police F. L. Brownlee, building inspector Philip Lomas and municipal clerk John Ismay be recommended for appointment as deputy fire marshals with authority to issue fire permits.

A recommendation from the police commission read last night urged that Chief Brownlee's name be eliminated from the list, owing to pressure of police duties on week-ends and council concurred.

Warm exchanges continued to pass between the reeve and Mr. Lamont when a 10-point statement was gone over clause by clause.

The reeve agreed that a limited expense account for the fire chief was warranted in special cases, but he was definitely opposed to a blanket account. The fire chief is allowed $600 annually to cover incidental expenses. At one point the reeve, checking what he took to be an inference, asserted that he sought no special favors in seeking office. In all his actions, he said, he was out to protect the interests of the ratepayers.

WORKS CHIEF QUILTS

Resignation of works superintendent T. Michell was received by council and accepted with regret.

The resignation developed through the Aug. 10 action of council to increase staff remuneration by 3 per cent in conformity with other municipalities. Mr. Michell, who is now getting a monthly stipend of $298, contends he is entitled to $330 to bring his pay into line with the corresponding job of general foreman in Saanich, instead of that of district foreman.

No action was taken by council to appoint a successor to the retiring works superintendent.

Congested car parking at the Brentwood boat landings, particularly on fish derby days, was reported by the police chief, who urged measures for elimination of the congestion.

The reeve said he understood boat operators were getting together with a view to providing a specific area adjacent to the waterfront for parking purposes.

The matter was referred to the works committee for report.

Consideration was given to the establishment of a 30-mile zone for car traffic on West Saanich Road between Verdier Avenue and Wallace Drive.

It was pointed out that the section was becoming increasingly busy with stores, medical clinic and post office located there and in close proximity to the school.

It was decided to recommend to the provincial government establishment of a 30-mile restricted zone.

Plans of the proposed $30,000 water line extension of Brentwood Waterworks District to take in the Sea Drive area were studied by council. The water trustees requested permission to lay four-inch cast iron pipe along the west side of Hagan Road and south side of Wallace Drive. On recommendation of the reeve, permission was granted.

Local Expenditure Demanded For E & N Land Sale Income

COBBLE HILL—Money that the provincial government is reaping as a result of E & N land sales should be spent on Vancouver Island, the Vancouver Island Ratepayers' Association contends.

George E. Bonner, association president, says the government has received $1,318,395 as its share of Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway land sales since 1950. On behalf of his association, he has wired Public Works Minister Philip Gagliardi asking that this amount be earmarked for new island projects.

He suggested it could best be used for building the long-talked-of road from Sprout Lake to the west coast settlement of Tofino, and establishing a ferry service linking Campbell River with Quadra Island.

"Both of these schemes would be a great asset to the island as a whole," Mr. Bonner said. "Our main point is—why should this money go into general revenue when it belongs to the people of the island?"

COLUMNIST JACK SCOTT GANGES DERBY WINNER

GANGES—Jack Scott, Vancouver journalist, landed a 26-pound spring salmon here Sunday to win the annual Salt-spring Island Rod and Gun Club salmon derby.

About 100 entries braved one of the worst storms of the summer to compete. Many of those who started out at dawn had to return for a change of clothing before starting out again.

About 50 salmon were weighed in, and 35 won prizes for their captors. Miss Sharon Brooks won a television set as prize in a derby draw.

Scott caught his prize-winning salmon at the western end of Portlier Pass.

Reeve Scores Upset In Fire Department

SAANICHTON—Reeve Sidney Pickles of Central Saanich today deplored what he called a "hullabaloo" over the resignation of Fire Chief Victor Heal because he had been relieved of certain administration duties. The resignation has not yet come before the council.

"It is highly regrettable that all this hullabaloo has developed entirely through a recommendation which I made to council that all our inspection services should be handled through our office and our inspection department," the reeve said.

"We have a full-time inspector on our staff, and it is desirable to have all records of inspections, fire permits and so forth immediately available in our office."

"The Fire Marshals Act calls for the inspection of public buildings every two months and this has not been done up to the present, according to the

Funeral Saturday For Mrs. E. Hogg

NANAIMO—Mrs. Elizabeth Hogg, well known and respected Victoria citizen, died in Nanaimo General Hospital Wednesday.

Born in Basford, England, in 1870, Mrs. Hogg went directly to Victoria in 1913.

She was a faithful soldier of the Victoria Citadel Corps and member of the Salvation Army for 71 years.

Predeceased by her husband, Charles, early in 1939, she is survived by three daughters, Mrs. George Pinkett, 594 Hamilton Avenue, with whom she lived for the past 13 months; Mrs. Richard Sleeman, Seattle, and Mrs. R. Freeman, Long Beach, Calif. Ten grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 1:30 from Sands Mortuary, Victoria. Interment will take place in the family plot, Royal Oak Burial Park.

Presentation Set For Graduates

LANGFORD—Examination of swimmers enrolled in the Langford Lake water safety classes have been held during the past week at the public beach, Leigh Road, and awards for successful candidates will be presented Saturday.

A closing program and ceremony will be held in St. Matthew's Church hall at 7 p.m. in addition to the presentation.

Three films on swimming and water safety will be shown.

Sponsored by the Langford and District Lions Club in cooperation with the Canadian Red Cross, the classes were conducted under leadership of Lions member Innes Cooper, committee chairman.

R. C. Muir, Glen Lake, was swimming instructor. His assistants were Les Smith and George Hill.

Pilot Braves Murky Skies For Logger

Transfusion Given At Half-Way Mark

VANCOUVER (CP)—A commercial pilot braved fog and drizzle Wednesday to bring a seriously injured logger to Vancouver from Port Hardy, on the northern tip of Vancouver Island.

Douglas Roy Munroe, 29-year-old logger from Vancouver, was injured when the logging truck he was driving collided with a second truck on a hill at Jeune Landing, near Port Hardy.

Munroe was taken by car to Port Hardy where he was picked up by Bill Bellam of B.C. Air Lines. The light plane set down at Campbell River, 90 miles from Vancouver, so a nurse could make blood transfusions.

Airline officials said they would not have permitted the plane to make the flight if the call had not been an emergency.

Munroe was reported in fair condition in St. Paul's Hospital.

Touring Students Visit Nanaimo Fish Laboratory

NANAIMO—Twenty-two members of the Commonwealth Youth Movement, most of them from New Zealand, visited the $350,000 Pacific Biological Station Wednesday. They were conducted by D. R. Foskett and R. S. Isaacson.

The thrilled young people cannot seem to get over what they term "the enormous hospitality of the Canadian people everywhere we go."

After lunch with Dr. and Mrs. Ferris Neave, the students were guests of Nanaimo Yacht Club members, who later took them for a short cruise around the harbor.

Water System Making Progress

NANAIMO—Perennial water shortage in this city may soon be unhappy history.

In addition to 20 new hydrants already installed this summer, more than three miles of water mains have been laid.

Program of Greater Nanaimo Water Board is well ahead of schedule, but restriction in upper levels will probably be imposed before the fall rains.

Meanwhile, extra pipes from six to 10 inches are laid out and additional ditching and fill machinery is ordered to rush the project to completion.

S. Cowichan Tennis Tournament Hopes to Start Matches Today

By JOHN TAYLOR

DUNCAN—Continuous rain completely washed out any hopes of the 66th Vancouver Island tennis open championships and the Pacific Northwest sectionals getting underway at the South Cowichan Lawn Tennis Club Wednesday.

It was hoped by the many tennis stars from all over the Pacific northwest and California that there would be a let-up to allow play Wednesday evening. It appears, however, that the tournament will have to be extended until Sunday instead of finishing Saturday.

The well-known names in PNW tennis arrived in Duncan Tuesday in readiness for the oldest continuous tournament in Canada. To the best of the knowledge of followers of the game in Victoria, Vancouver, and Cowichan, there is no club in Canada which has held tournaments consecutively since 1888.

OLDEST CONTEST

The South Cowichan open tournament, now officially known as the Vancouver Island Championships, is the oldest in the Pacific northwest. The brochure published annually by the PNW Lawn Tennis Association lists all tournaments for 1954, and it is interesting to note that Cowichan's 66th annual championships outranked them all in age.

South Cowichan Club has a picture showing a full turnout of members dated 1888 and it is known that the club was in existence well before that, although not at the same site as the now.

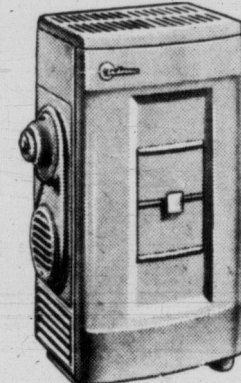

The PNW sectional contest is women's singles.

School Bus Criticism Answered by Williston

Government Grants Withdrawn Unless 'Abuses' Are Halted

Education Minister Ray Williston today answered critics of his directive to school boards warning them government grants would be withdrawn unless school bus transportation abuses are halted.

Mr. Williston said his school bus policy is aimed at both saving money and standardizing service. "There has been no firm policy in the past," he said.

"It is the responsibility of local school boards to provide transportation, actually," he said. Mr. Williston added the government intends to continue paying grants to subsidize school transportation, but these payments would be calculated on a common basis.

Provincial grants, amounting to 60% of the total school bus cost, will not be authorized unless:

1. Children within a three-mile area walk to school, or find other means of transportation.

2. Children are picked up only at central points outside the three-mile limit. Maximum walking distance to these pick-up points has been set at two miles.

3. School bus equipment is "adequate, but not luxurious."

Mr. Williston said: "Local school boards can provide any type of service they wish with any kind of equipment . . . but grants will be issued only under the above terms."

There are some exceptions. Pupils in grades one to three will not be required to walk more than 2 1/2 miles. And, "particular circumstances where special consideration may be warranted, will be considered."

Mr. Williston's directive also orders withdrawal of government grants when a school bus route is established for less

Pay-After-You're-Gone Funeral Plan Operating Here

By TONY DICKASON

There's a pay-as-you-go funeral plan functioning here but in actuality payments are made after-you-have-gone. The plan operating at one of the larger local establishments of permanency requires "small monthly payments" to be made after the death of the party involved. To date, funeral parlor operators say, the plan has helped several people.

This is how it works: Joe, who may be a relative or friend, dies. Then you, as a relative or friend, are allowed to pay for his funeral expenses over a period ranging from six to 18 months through a system of "life insurance financing." If you should die meanwhile the insurance covers the remainder of Joe's bill. Who or what looks after your expenses is another question.

There is no other method by which funeral expenses can come under the "deferred payment" plan without infringing on life insurance company prerogatives, a spokesman said. The plan is not, however, too popular here. Many Victorians contemplating the hereafter are fairly well stocked with provisions and property and have no need for it. Also, because of the comparatively high turnover (Victoria has the largest ratio of elderly people in Canada) cost of funerals here is not as high as elsewhere.

On expenses, four funeral establishments contacted gave these answers: "From $115 to $1,000," "From $125 to $800," "From $100 to $1,000."

"From $140 to $850."

According to one funeral parlor spokesman a "surprising number" of persons drop around and pick out their own caskets, burial plots, and type of service and, of course, discuss cost.

Apart from the pay-after-you-have-gone plan, funeral parlors here will often make arrangements for a person to drop in and pay small retainers from time to time on his or her eventual demise.

"Much the same principle as selling any major household item," it was explained.

Words and musing (while listening to a football game on the air)...

Do you mind if I tune in the game, dear... the football game, of course... no, it's not too early for football... wonder if it's still raining in Vancouver... wouldn't it be terrible if the climate changed and it never rained in Vancouver? ... what would radio announcers do without that old gag about the clouds over Victoria being a bunch of empties going to Vancouver for a refill? ... ah, sounds as though the Lions really have a line... they might even live up to their press notices... darn it, the Hamiltons passed fifty yards for a touchdown...

What's that, dear? Yes, the Hamiltons are supposed to score touchdowns... but our side is supposed to stop them... now let me listen to what's going on... seems to me Stuke needs a passer... also a back who can get up a head of steam before he hits that line... wow! two first downs in a row... we're rolling...

What? Yes, I know I need a haircut. But I couldn't get a haircut today, today is Wednesday... I know yesterday wasn't Wednesday but I can't get a haircut Tuesday tonight—stop it, dear, you've got me doing it... wonder who has the ball? Wonder what's been happening... doggone it, there go the Hamiltons again...

I beg your pardon? Yes, I'm enjoying the game. Yes, I like football very much. Yes, it's good of you not to interfere with my little pleasures. No, a good many wives wouldn't understand the way you do... golly, sounds as though that Weinmeister is a one-man gang... those Lions will win one some day... there he goes again... he's going to dump the ball carrier for a...

No, dear, the fullback doesn't necessarily play right after a big dinner... and the flying wing doesn't have to do so on one wing only... yes, dear, I'm glad to see you taking such an interest in football... listen to the crowd boo! Wonder why they're booing? Wonder what a referee thinks about when the crowd boos him? Wonder if a crowd ever cheered a referee?

How's that again? I'm not hungry right now... well, how do I know what I want for dinner tomorrow when it's still today... well, tonight, then... I'll think of something before the stores close... what did she pay the paid attendance was? sure hope ole Stuke packs 'em in, win, lose or draw... draw... that reminds me... wonder if ole Stuke still draws to an inside straight... guess he's too busy for...

Eh? Oh, good night dear. What are you looking so cross about? Oh, you're not cross? Just terribly, terribly bored? You find it hard to just sit there and not say anything? I guess I'd better turn the radio off. After all, a man should give his wife some chance to talk...

DROODLES

I've worked out many brilliant inventions such as the one pictured above and I'd be a rich man except that certain trouble makers in the patent office are against me. This is still the land of opportunity and any red-blooded American boy can make a fortune (if the wrong thinkers mentioned above aren't against him) by thinking up new ideas. Ideas such as "sponge rubber bear traps for kind-hearted hunters" or "American towels for wet Turks" or even, "elevator sneakers for short basketball players." Or even, "benzedrine band-aids for people with tired blood." Any of these ideas could be as successful as the paper clip if certain parties in the patent office would remember they are public servants and not waste time writing sarcastic letters to red-blooded American boys (me).

NEW PARKING METERS INSTALLED BY FRIDAY

City workmen will have completed the installation of 92 new parking meters in the downtown area by Friday night. New metered sections are on Herald Street, between Douglas and Blanshard, and Yates Street, between Blanshard and Quadra.

Meters on Herald are already installed on both sides of the street. The block on Yates has about seven-eighths of its meters in place.

Joy-Riding Juveniles Sentenced for Thefts

Six Months in Borstal-Type Home Court's Verdict for Five Boys

Five city boys, aged 13 to 16, began terms in a Borstal-type institution today as a result of a recent police crackdown on car-thefts.

The quietest appeared before Magistrate A. I. Thomas in juvenile court.

Names of the youngsters were not released.

According to police chief John Blackstock each of the accused was sentenced to six months definite and two years indefinite.

The arrests were announced Aug. 10 following a widespread round-up of car-lifting joy riders.

Police Pursue Crackdown on Illegal Drinks

Two Convicted On Indian Charge

Two sailors were charged with supplying intoxicants to two Indian girls early today as a city police drive against illegal drinking continued in high gear.

Donald Gordon McGowan, RCN, paid $50 when he pleaded guilty to supplying. Magistrate H. C. Hall ruled that McGowan would stay in jail until the fine is paid or he elects for seven days imprisonment.

A companion was released after an Indian girl would not identify him as the man who gave her a drink.

Charges against the two girls were dropped because both were willing to testify against the accused.

Altogether, there were five persons before Magistrate A. I. Thomas today on intoxication charges.

Two accused bootleggers are awaiting trial, and at least two more have been summonsed since police morality squads began a series of raids last Saturday. One conviction for supplying was recorded Monday.

The reservists hope to win Ottawa approval for the addition of two minesweepers, to form with HMCS Sault Ste. Marie a reserve "sweeper squadron."

Rear-Admiral J. C. Hibbard, Flag Officer, Pacific Command, will discuss the plan with Commodore Adams Friday.

The reserve training program has been expanding steadily over the past year. Bangor class minesweepers are now used for training on the Great Lakes, and the possibility of putting in "sea time" close to home has attracted many new reservists in Eastern Canada, Commodore Adams said.

The sweepers which will come to this coast if naval headquarters approves, carry a wartime complement of 60 officers and men, but more can be carried for peacetime training.

On his present trip to the West Coast from divisions headquarters in Hamilton, Commodore Adams will inspect the sea cadet camp at Comox and hold conferences with reserve officers at HMCS Malahat.

"There is plenty of time for that," she said today. Support and encouragement for her stand has come from many quarters, Mrs. Barr said. "I've had hundreds of calls," she said. "My phone has been red hot most of the time."

GOT TITLE BUT NOT THE CASH

New Lord Heneage Was Clergyman Here

Lord the Rev. Robert Thomas Heneage, who has succeeded to his brother's title but not his wealth, lived in Victoria from 1909 to 1929.

Lord Heneage's brother, squire of one of England's largest country estates, died in January. His will, probated Tuesday, left nearly $1,000,000 and all his property to the grandson of a cousin, his nephew, James Heneage, of Hainton, England.

The present Lord Heneage was ordained in 1903 at the diocese of Lincoln, England, and came to Victoria six years later. He was at St. Mark's Church until 1912 when he became chaplain to the bishop here.

Rev. Heneage remained in this capacity until 1917, after which he assisted with services in other Victorian Anglican churches, including Christ Church Cathedral.

Council Meets On Racing Plan

Highway Outlet One-Way Road Until Next Year

City-Bound Traffic To Take Old Route

Provincial government officials said today that only one-way traffic will be allowed on the first section of the Island Highway until next year.

The initial 4.5 miles of the highway outlet from the city out to Burnside Road is open only to traffic from the city. City-bound traffic must not go under the Thetis Lake-Burnside CPR underpass, and must use the old highway into Victoria.

Government engineers said the one-way order was issued because of the danger posed by the narrow underpass. They said construction will start soon on a new system of interconnection between the old and new highways.

The connecting road will move under the CPR tracks, and over the CNR tracks, cutting out all level crossings.

Meanwhile, extensive work is planned at the point the new outlet, scheduled for completion next year, will cut into the Island Highway at Goldstream.

The notorious Suicide Hill and corner are to be improved. Crews already have chopped brush from the surrounding banks in preparation for the difficult construction job.

Taking out the dangerous corner and widening will be undertaken next year, according to the construction schedule. With the Goldstream on one side and rock bluffs on the other, it promises to be what one engineer terms "an extremely difficult project."

Special Session Friday On Elk Lake Proposal

City council members have been called to a special meeting Friday to discuss further the West Coast Horsemen's Association proposal to establish a race track and exhibition grounds on 80 acres of city-owned property between Elk and Beaver Lakes.

Council last Thursday gave the project its blessing in principle. Aldermen now are apparently anxious to work out details as soon as possible.

One of the first matters to be decided is whether the city should sell the property outright or enter into a long-term lease arrangement. It is understood most aldermen favor the second alternative.

A special committee of council, comprising the mayor, Ald. Geoffrey Edgewood, Ald. Frank Mulliner and Ald. Robert Macmillan is scheduled to have a meeting with officers of the West Coast Horsemen's Association one hour before Friday's council meeting, which has been called for 3:30 p.m.

SAANICH INVOLVED

Negotiations will have to be undertaken with Saanich before the project can be launched.

The property in question will have to be rezoned. It is more, than likely residents of the municipality will be asked to vote on it, as they were the race track proposal advanced by Royal Portage Parks Ltd. in 1952.

Already some residents of the Elk Lake area, who fear property values may be adversely affected if a race track is established near them, are planning opposition to the proposal. Supporters of the proposition feel this can be overcome, however, and find encouragement in the fact that the race track referendum submitted to Saanich residents in December, 1952, carried 2,188 to 1,982. That vote involved property at the north end of Burnside Road, a more heavily populated district.

City Council is set to ponder the question of charitable grants again.

A special meeting of council has been called for Friday at 3:30 and the grant issue will be one of two items on the agenda. The other concerns the proposal to establish a race track near Elk Lake.

Council has been debating the matter of charitable grants since early in the year.

It felt it had a solution to the vexing problem in July when it voted to give the Community Chest $8,000 along with a list of eight agencies it felt were deserving, and asked the Chest to divide the $8,000 among the eight as it saw fit.

The council had the problem thrown right back into its lap when the Chest notified the city earlier this month that it could not undertake the job.

Apart from deciding how much the eight agencies should receive, council still has requests to consider from the Victoria Symphony, Greater Victoria Arts Centre, and Musical Arts Society. These three have directed considerable criticism at the council for the way it has dealt with the question of grants.

The recommendations were as follows:

1. A two year contract between employers and employees from May 1, 1954, to April 30, 1956.

2. Elimination of towing time, starting July 16, 1954.

3. A 44-hour week from the commencement of the season each year until July 15.

4. A 40-hour week from July 16 to the end of the season each year.

5. Eight dollars a month pay increase across the board in 1954.

6. Five dollars a month increase across the board in 1955, effective May 1, 1955.

It was suggested that female cooks, in lieu of pay increases recommended for other employees, be given an increase of $25 per month, effective May 1, 1954.

ASK THE TIMES

Q.—Will you please tell me the origin of the term bulldozer?

A.—Although the word has been known to people of Canada and the U.S. for many years, it has not as yet found its way into dictionaries published on this continent, even as a colloquialism. Men of firms in Victoria which sell those motorized machines so useful in building and other works were unable to offer the Times any printed history in their field. It has been impossible to find any statement generally accepted, as to who first applied the name to them, though it may be surmised it was an engineer or a motor or machinery manufacturer. If it is assumed the noun bulldozer was derived from the verb bulldoze, a U.S. colloquialism originally applied to intimidation of negro voters in Louisiana, the building up step by step to the machine Victorians nowadays see in use is a tenuous process.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily. All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums.

A Handicapped Girl Can Still Be Popular

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

Canadian teen-agers dance at every opportunity. The boy or girl who cannot dance for one reason or another is unquestionably handicapped. A young girl writes.

Hurlock

(Q) "I have read your answer to the boy who said he was too fat to dance and I certainly struck home with me. I am not fat and I should love to dance, but I am not permitted to do so. I had rheumatic fever as a child and the doctor says it is bad for my heart to dance. All my friends go to dances and have wonderful times, while I sit at home. The boys don't ask me for dates because I can't dance, swim, play tennis or even go for a walk. So, I know from bitter experience how important dancing is to one's popularity. Tell the boy for me that he is lucky his handicap is only overweight!"

(A) You are right when you say this boy is lucky compared to you. However, you do not have to be left out of things. There are other things you can do to be in the social swim. It may not be much fun to go to a school dance and sit on the sidelines with boys, but it is better than sitting at home and feeling sorry for yourself.

Wear a pretty dress. Go equipped with a lot to talk about, and you will find the boys will enjoy sitting out the dances with you. Most boys prefer talking to dancing anyway.

You can watch tennis, swimming and all sports even if you cannot participate. Get the rule books for different sports, learn them, and then you can talk the boys' language when they talk about sports.

Being a good conversationalist and a good listener will win you many more friends than being a good dancer. If you don't develop a martyr complex you can be as popular as the best dancer in your school.

As a special service to our readers, Dr. Hurlock has written a 64-page booklet, "You and Your Problems." For your copy send 15c in coin with a self-addressed stamped envelope to this newspaper.

An Easy Way to Exercise; These Can Be Done in Bed

There are many nice but lazy persons who simply will not get down on the floor and exercise. Once they become caught in the interests and activities of their day, no matter how sincerely they meant to take their daily dozen, they fail to do so.

With these women especially in mind, I have devised a few exercises you can do in bed before you get up in the morning. The first one you will like. Stretch but reach and twist in every direction until you feel you have pulled every muscle in your body. Do this in a very lazy manner. Even a few yawns are allowed! This is a pleasant way to wake up and is more slimming than you realize, if you will do it slowly and thoroughly.

Next: Bend your left knee up close to your abdomen. Straighten it toward the ceiling. Slowly lower leg to the bed. Do the same thing with your right leg. Continue, alternating left and right. Do this 20 times before getting up in the morning. If you would like to have your exercise routine which can be taken in bed send a stamped, self-addressed envelope, with your request for the leaflet "Setting Up In Bed," No. 27. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Auxiliary Garden Party Held Indoors; Proves Big Success

Rain and mist on Wednesday necessitated change in locale for a garden party arranged by the Women's Auxiliary, Canadian National Institute for the Blind, to honor blind citizens of Victoria, from the garden of Mrs. A. Milligan, 1521 Shasta Place, to the CNIB headquarters on Blanshard Street.

Here, Mrs. R. H. B. Ker had transformed the spacious auditorium into an indoor garden with massed arrangements of bright colored dahlias, gladioli, goldenrod, monkshood and asters. Individual tea tables each had a miniature bouquet of the gay flowers and on the head table was an arrangement of asters, Ester Reid daisies, scabiosa and snapdragons.

Co-conveners of the party were Mrs. R. B. Horton and Mrs. A. D. Bechtel. Mrs. J. L. Clay, president of the auxiliary acted as hostess for the afternoon. Mrs. Elizabeth Watling, president of the White Cane Club, sang several solos and led the gathering in community singing, accompanied by Mrs. Miller. Thanks were expressed to the auxiliary by Miss V. Deacon who works with Miss Dorothy Stark, CNIB secretary. Door prizes were won by Mrs. Watling, Mrs. G. H. Henderson and Mr. Hyde.

Specially invited guests included His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Wallace, Rear Admiral J. C. Hibbard, Mrs. T. A. Rickard, Mrs. G. H. Barriard, Senator Nancy Hodges, Archdeacon A. E. deL. Nunn, Mrs. Nunn, Princess Chikmatoff, Miss Kathleen Agnew, Mrs. Will Spencer, Miss Sara Spencer.

Miss Margaret Clay, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Yarrow, Mr. and Mrs. W. Gilmour, E. E. Bossence, Mr. and Mrs. John Hart, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Chubb, Mrs. H. R. Beaven, Miss Maud Bowden, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. K. Messerschmidt, Mr. and Mrs. Breach, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. M. Mortimer, Mr. R. A. H. Lort, Dean P. R. Beattie and Miss Beattie.

Low Point in Polio Cycle Reached

Polio is on the wane in British Columbia, after two years of epidemic proportions. Health officials Wednesday reported a new series of polio figures for the past three weeks, showing a noticeable drop from last year's figures. They said the explanation was that polio runs in "irregular cycles, and this year is the bottom of the cycle." Evidence of the irregularity is that this year's decrease was expected in 1953, but another year of serious outbreaks was experienced. In the week ending July 24 there were six cases throughout B.C.; in 1953, 19. Week ending July 31, two cases, compared with 39; and the last week for which figures are available, August 7, three cases were reported, compared with 30 in 1953. There have been two polio deaths in the province this year to date, one of them a "carry-over" from last year. In 1953 there were six deaths at this time.

NEWS BRIEFS

League of Roses (Lancs and Yorks) will meet in club rooms at 904 Government tonight at 8 for nomination of officers.

Samuel Fraser Graveson, 501 Walter, was fined $5 in city police court Wednesday for driving through a traffic light when it was red.

Over $130 in tools and car accessories was taken in a break-in of R. G. Graves service station at Oak Bay junction. An 18x18-inch hole was broken in a rear window to gain entry.

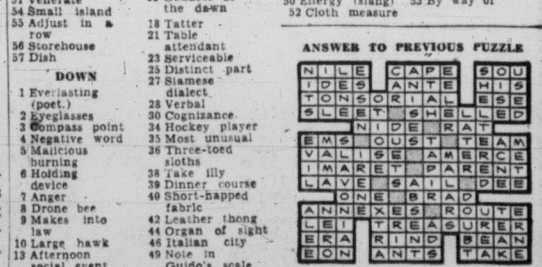

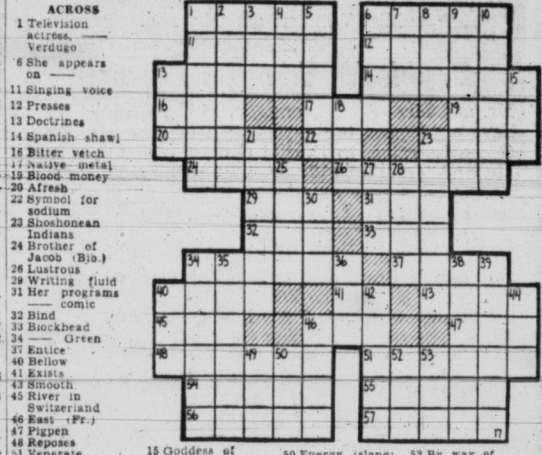

Loot included a car radio, aerial, fog light, floor mat, exhaust extension and tools.

Canada Newspaper Production Up; Exports Down

MONTREAL (BUP)—Canadian newspaper production was up last month, but exports took a drop, the Newspaper Association of Canada reported today.

Output during the month totaled 503,979 tons, an increase of 2.6 per cent over July, 1953. Exports amounted to 448,052 tons, down from 461,816 a year ago.

The association said there had been an increase in shipments to Central America and the Caribbean area, South America, European countries and the Balkans, the Mediterranean and the Near East, Africa, India, the Middle East, Australia and New Zealand. Exports to the United States, the British Isles and the Orient were down.

Alberta Wheat Three Weeks Late

CALGARY (CP)—Crops are one to three weeks late throughout most of Alberta, although better than average wheat yields are still expected, the Alberta Wheat Pool said in its weekly crop report.

Cutting of winter wheat, rye and barley is in full swing in the deep south, and a start has been made in swathing spring wheat in some areas. Lack of moisture in the south has caused deterioration of some late crops.

Moisture supplies are ample over the rest of Alberta, with a need for sunshine to ripen the crop.

Red rust was reported from 40 points mainly along the Saskatchewan border. Infestation extends from Bonnyville in the north to Walsh, east of Medicine Hat, in the south. Severe damage is not yet apparent.

Department Store Sales Up in June

OTTAWA (BUP)—The Bureau of Statistics said Wednesday Canadian department store sales totaled $465,774,000 during the first half of the year, an increase of 2.7 per cent over 1953 levels.

The bureau said that June sales value was $84,886,000, up 6.2 per cent from the same month a year ago.

At the same time, inventories in the stores were valued at $251,481,000, or 4.6 per cent more than last year.

Soviet Team Climbs 'Mt. Revolution'

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union said Wednesday a team of its climbers has scaled hitherto unconquered "Mt. Revolution" in the Pamir range near the Soviet-Afghanistan border. The mountain is listed in Soviet records at 29,916 feet—fourth highest in the Soviet Union, topped only by Mts. Stalin, Pobeda and Lenin.

SHILLING TO SEE WHERE JACK DID SLAYING

Giant's Castle Nationalized

PENZANCE, Eng. (Reuters)—The castle where Jack climbed the beanstalk and killed the giant is going to be nationalized.

Lord St. Leven, owner of the fabled castle, announced he is turning the huge, granite structure over to the government organization which has been formed to preserve ancient buildings and open them to the public.

But in ceding the castle to the National Trust, the 59-year-old Wednesday night stipulated that he and his wife must be allowed to go on living there for the rest of their lives.

With the castle, sitting atop a jagged rock on a 21-acre island just off the coast here, the government will get $4,200 a year in shillings. That's what the castle earns from the 30,000 tourists who each year pay a shilling a piece to visit it.

DECAPITATED GIANT
The big attraction for the "Jack's well," which legend says is the place where Jack trapped the Cornish giant Cormoran and lopped off his head.

Apart from the charge in ownership, things at the castle will go on as they have for years now.

Every Wednesday and Friday, tourists will line up on the dock at Marazion, pay their shillings, take a boat across the narrow stretch of water separating the castle from the mainland.

There they will climb the cone-shaped mountain to the castle while guides tell them it was here that Jack slew the giant.

Theatre Guild Plans 6 Plays During Winter

'The Little Foxes' Will Open Season

Although a few holiday weeks still remain, the Victoria Theatre Guild is already getting into gear for the coming season of activity. Production committee, headed by its chairman, Harold L. Gelling, has selected a proposed panel of plays for six major productions. These are to include "The Little Foxes," Lillian Hellman's dramatic play which is to open the season, "My Three Angels," "Stage Door," and "Gramercy Ghost."

Casting notices are now out for "The Little Foxes." Tryouts will be held tonight and Friday evening at the Arts Centre, 1040 Moss Street, commencing at 7.30.

Veteran Phonograph Singer Dies at 77

NEW YORK (CP)—Billy Murray, whose tenor voice was one of the great record sellers in the early days of the phonograph, died Tuesday night at Jones Beach, Long Island. He was 77. Before 1925 he made more than 4,000 records for Victor, including such favorites as "Oh, You Beautiful Doll" and "I'd Rather Be a Lobster Than a Wise Guy."

PROCEEDS TO NAVY LEAGUE

Victoria 'Grandma Moses' Will Show Water Colors

By AB KENT

An exhibition of water colors by Victoria's "Grandma Moses" will be held Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 28 and 29, in the board room at Dominion Hotel in support of the Navy League of Canada.

Mrs. K. I. Alsford, 65, discovered her artistic talent only two years ago under the tutelage of the late Charlie Barker, prominent Vancouver Island artist.

Since then she has raised more than $300 for charity through exhibitions, and her work may be found in most cities of North America. She doesn't paint for profit, even though she accepts orders if desired.

Mostly she paints island scenery or B.C.'s flora. Recently the Duke of Edinburgh accepted a painting by Mrs. Alsford of a cluster of dogwood blossoms, B.C.'s unofficial official flower.

Mrs. Alsford, who is left-handed, was as surprised as anyone when she learned of her talent with the brush. She believes that such things are providence-sent to help the elderly pass their years usefully.

Water color painting is her forte, but Mrs. Alsford also paints parchment lamp shades in oils, which is necessary for lasting work.

Through her work, the aging artist, who remains young in spirit, has made friends across the country and nearly all over at least one example of her work.

Proceeds from the coming exhibition will go to financing of operations of Sea Cadets in Victoria. The cadets, says Mrs. Alsford, are "fine boys."

The show will be opened by a senior naval officer from Pacific Command at 2.30 p.m., Aug. 28. Exhibition hours will be from 2.30 to 9 p.m. both days.

WINNIPEG GIRL SINGING STAR

TORONTO (CP)—Winnipeg-born Kathryn Albertson is stealing singing honors in "Kiss Me Kate," current Melody Fair production here. The Canadian dramatic soprano, who sings the title role, was praised Wednesday by the Toronto Stars' reviewer as "destined for the opera house."

"Whether she sang a romantic ballad like 'So in Love' or a comic song such as 'I Hate Men,' her voice stood out," said the critic.

Miss Albertson is one of two Winnipeg singing products now starting on Toronto stages. The other, Iva Withers, has won high praise for her performance in the musical "South Pacific."

ROBIN HOOD FLOUR BIKE CONTEST WINNERS

Hey, Kids! You can win too! Over 140 bikes won by Vancouver Island boys and girls since contest started March 27, 1954, which is still continuing. Listen to Housewives' Holiday each Saturday morning at 9.30 for the question of the week—answer it, add your name and address plus a guarantee certificate from Robin Hood flour, or a box top from any Robin Hood product, and send to ROBIN HOOD BIKE CONTEST, CKDA. Each week three shiny, new, three-speed-English bicycles are given away to lucky boys and girls. You may enter as often as you wish. Happy winners shown above received their prizes at the Odeon Theatre and are Gailynne Ross, 258 Robertson; Wayne Garrington, 721 McKenzie; Dallas Wright, 2083 Townley Street; Lorraine Walker, 214 Sims Avenue; Linda Ball, 230 Robertson; Vicki Axhorn, 1344 Thurlow Road; Geoffrey Thorburn, 500 Gore Street; Sharon Lennett, 3167 Alder Street; Andrea Cottingham, 145 Helmcken. Question this week is: "What B.C. river is named after John Simon Fraser?" Listen Saturday, CKDA, Dial 1280, at 9.30 a.m. for more winners—another question.

25.8 TO MILE 27.8
NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed Tenders marked "Tender for Construction of Pacific Great Eastern Railway, Vancouver to Squamish—Mile 25.8 to Mile 27.8," will be received by the Pacific Great Eastern Railway Company, Parliament Buildings, Victoria, B.C. up to 12 o'clock noon, Friday, September 3, 1954.

Contract documents and plans may be obtained from the office of the Company's construction department, foot of Rogers Avenue, North Vancouver, and at the office of the Deputy Minister of Railways, Douglas Building, Victoria, on deposit of a sum of Twenty Dollars
($20.00), made payable to the Pacific Great Eastern Railway Company, which will be refunded upon return of plans, etc., in good condition within a period of one month of the receipt of tenders, except in the case of the successful contractor where the plan deposit is not refundable.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque made payable to the Pacific Great Eastern Railway Company, for the amount of $125,000.00.
This deposit shall be forfeited if the tender declines to enter into contract or if he fails to complete the work contracted for.

The cheques of unsuccessful bidders will be returned to them when the contract has been awarded.
Tenders must be made out on the forms supplied and enclosed in the envelope furnished.
The successful contractor must carry the work in strict conformity with the contract and specifications. He will not receive any subsequent adjustment of settlement beyond the terms of the contract.

The lowest or any tender will not necessarily be accepted.

Girl Tourist
Falls to Death

ATHALMER, B.C. (CP)—No trace was found Wednesday of the body of a teen-age American tourist who was drowned near here Tuesday when she fell 60 feet into a gorge.

RCMP said Patricia Christensen of Dubuque, Iowa, was posing for a photograph at the edge of Marble Canyon in Kootenay National Park when she lost her balance and toppled over the edge.

The only witness to the accident, one of a party of four including the girl's uncle, said she swam a few strokes and then suddenly disappeared into the foaming water.

BURIED 300 YEARS AGO

Scientists Find Casket
Of Canada's Noted Saint

MIDLAND, Ont. (BUP)—A Jesuit archaeologist was "reasonably certain" today that he had uncovered the 300-year-old coffin of St. Jean de Brebeuf, Canada's famous missionary martyr.

The Rev. Denis Hegarty discovered the outline of a coffin six feet under the old mission residence of Sainte
Marie, six miles from the Huron Indian village of St.
Ignace, where Iroquois killed the founder of the first Jesuit Indian mission after hours of torture in 1649.

St. Jean de Brebeuf was canonized with seven other Jesuit missionaries in 1930 and with them was subsequently declared a secondary patron of Canada.

The bodies of Brebeuf and Father Lallemant, who was slain the next day, were known to have been buried in Sainte Marie but excavators a few years ago could not find the burial site.
Father Hegarty and an asstant began digging in the site of the old Indian chapel and found the outline of a coffin approximately opposite the Christian cemetery which abuts the chapel.

A lead plaque buried with the coffin bore an inscription covered with dirt which apparently gives the date of Brebeuf's burial and explains he was martyred by the Iroquois.

Minute Rice is pre-cooked to save you time and effort. And it's perfect rice every single time... plump and tender, fluffy and snowy-white. It's pre-cooked... no other rice like it!

A HAT TRICK OF TIME-SAVERS...

PINEAPPLE RICE MOULDS—Prepare 1 1/2 cups Minute Rice as directed on the package. Add 1/2 cup drained, canned crushed pineapple. Press into 4 well-greased custard cups. Turn out on platter. Delicious with ham, roast pork, or chicken.

TOMATO RICE—Sauté 1/4 cup finely chopped onion in 2 tablespoons butter until lightly browned. Add 1 1/2 cups Minute Rice, 2 cups tomato juice, and 1/2 teaspoon salt. If desired, also add 1/2 teaspoon sugar. Mix just to moisten all rice. Bring quickly to a boil over high heat. Then cover, remove from heat, and let stand 13 minutes. Makes 4 servings. Delightful with bologna, wieners or cold roast beef.

CHICKEN AND MUSHROOM RICE—Prepare 1 1/2 cups Minute Rice according to package directions. Meanwhile heat 1 can condensed cream of mush-room soup with 1/2 cup milk, stirring occasionally. Add 1 cup diced leftover cooked chicken. Heat thoroughly. Pour over Minute Rice. A supper delight for 4.

TLC Convention Opens Monday

Fight for Presidency of Canada's Largest Union Reported Wide Open

REGINA (CP)—Unemployment, public works programs and greater social security measures appear to be the major topics slated for discussion at the 69th convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada opening here Monday.

The 500,000-member TLC, oldest and largest of Canadian labor organizations, also will elect a new president at the week-long meeting to replace Percy Bengough, one-time machinist, who has headed the group since 1943.

A wide-open fight for the job has been predicted, with Claude Jodoin, head of Montreal garment workers and a TLC vice-president, mentioned as the strongest contender. He is reported to have good support in Quebec, Ontario and British Columbia delegations, which account for about 450 of the 660 members attending the convention, and a considerable following among the 100-odd Prairie delegates.

One factor said to favor Mr. Jodoin is a tradition of alternating eastern and western presidents. Mr. Bengough came from British Columbia.

LIST OTHER CANDIDATES

Other candidates considered likely successors are R. K. Gerwin, Vancouver, a vice-president; A. F. McArthur, Toronto, and Gordon Cushing, general secretary-treasurer and former president of the Calgary and District Trades and Labor Council.

To meet the threat of unemployment, delegates are expected to call for a road-building scheme, increased housing construction and larger public works projects. Other probable topics are improved benefits under unemployment insurance, immigration and renewed efforts to unite farm and labor forces.

The convention will hear an appeal from the Fishermen's and Allied Workers' Union of British Columbia against its suspension from the congress.

Speakers include Labor Minister C. C. Williams of Saskatchewan, Premier Douglas and possibly Labor Minister Gregg. Fraternal delegates include R. G. Soderstrom, a representative of the American Federation of Labor, and Tom O'Brien, a British Member of Parliament and former president of the Trades Union Congress of Britain. Officials of federal departments of trade and labor also will attend.

Home Damaged As Fire Truck In Collision

No One Injured In Saanich Crash

A Saanich fire truck collided with a car while speeding to a fire at 756 Roderick Wednesday afternoon.

No one was hurt, but extensive damage was done to the home of Mrs. Alice Houlihan. She is visiting in San Francisco. The car which skidded into the fire truck was also from San Francisco.

It was driven by John G. Smith, who blamed wet pavement for the accident at Cedar Hill Crossroad and Blenkinsop. The front of the car was heavily damaged.

The fire did not delay efforts to douse the fire as another truck arrived soon after a passerby turned in an alarm. Firemen had to chop through a shingle roof to get water on the flames. A chesterfield in the living room was burning fiercely when the fire department arrived.

Mrs. Houlihan's son, Ronald, had been absent from the house since early morning, and it is not known how the blaze occurred.

B.C. Faces Reduction In 'Lost' Work Days

By ROY THORSEN

It is possible this year will see a reduction in time lost in B.C. due to contract disputes, union officials here indicated today.

Working days lost last year, the third highest in 15 years, totaled 260,335 in 33 disputes affecting 113 employers and 8,207 employees.

Union men base their forecast of lost-time reduction on the fact strike action has been low so far this year, perhaps because of lessened demands of union workers. There were many "nickel an hour" increases sought and won by employees in annual negotiations.

No mid-year figures were available from the Labor Relations Board to give an indication of the lost-time trend so far this year.

Union heads believe, however, there is a good possibility that this year's records will show a bigger call on the government for conciliation services. Last year there were 343 references to conciliation officers which resulted in settlement of 134 disputes with 53 undetermined at year's end and 124 referred to conciliation boards.

In 1952 the loss of working days totaled 1,234,120. The high year since 1939 was 1946 when 1,294,202 working days were lost. The 1946-52 years involved disputes in the lumber-logging industries. The 1954 negotiations in this field were completed without work stoppage.

Biggest strike actions so far this year have been the short-lived fisheries disputes for higher wages and the current Vancouver-Nanaimo strike of about 402 bakery workers.

Closes for Season

End of the berry picking season has brought closure of the federal-provincial farm labor office at 602 Broughton Street.

The office has served as the main recruiting centre for berry pickers during the summer.

Persons seeking part-time employment on farms from now on should apply to the provincial government department of agriculture.

Persons seeking full-time farm work should apply to the National Employment Service office, 1039 Johnson Street.

ONE SPECTATOR SURPRISES STAUD OAK BAY COUNCIL

Oak Bay council meeting Wednesday night was almost the briefest on record... a mere matter of minutes going over the few items on the agenda.

There were two reporters present and one spectator. The spectator evinced surprise at the speed with which events wound up, and was asked: "Are you a delegation for any particular purpose?"

"No," said the citizen, "just came here to watch." Mr. George Gregory said: "We get so few visitors at our meetings we thought you must have a complaint."

VICTORIA, B.C., THURSDAY, AUGUST 19, 1954—26 PAGES

PRICE: 1 CENT SATURDAY, 10 CENTS

FINAL BULLETINS

U.S. Retail Gasoline Prices Up

NEW YORK (UP)—Gasoline prices rose almost a cent a gallon today on the retail level in 18 eastern and southern states.

The increase became effective as the result of wholesale price increases ranging from 0.7 to 0.9 cents a gallon. Six major oil companies announced the increases "to meet competition" after Socony-Vacuum boosted its wholesale gasoline price Wednesday.

Reds Claim Invasion of China

LONDON (Reuters)—The Communist New China news agency reported tonight that American naval and air forces "in close action with the remnant Chiang Kai-shek forces, have intruded into the Chinese seacoast on the eastern part of the province of Chekiang."

Reds Holding Americans, Charged

WASHINGTON (AP)—Formal charges that the Chinese Communists are holding 15 American airmen as "political prisoners" were laid by the United States today.

A defense department statement said the Chinese Communists admitted at the recent conference at Geneva the airmen are alive and that this has been verified by Americans; former prisoners of war, who have been exchanged since the armistice in Korea.

Arrests Made in Lumber Strike

PORTLAND (AP)—Mass picketing brought three arrests and increasing tension today in the Olympic Peninsula phase of the Pacific Northwest lumber strike.

A logging company bus windshield was broken by a rock as an estimated 100 CIO union pickets massed on a logging road, about 40 miles west of Port Angeles.

Big Run Indicated on Adams River

VANCOUVER (CP)—An official of the B.C. fisheries department says sockeye salmon catches off the west coast of Vancouver Island may indicate a large run on the Adams River.

The sockeye are being caught by trollers daily, although the fish don't usually take a lure.

The fisheries official said today that such conditions indicate a large number of the fish in the area, and added that the Adams River run may arrive in the Straits of Juan de Fuca during the next week.

Anti-Red Bill Sails Through

WASHINGTON (AP)—A compromise bill outlawing the Communist Party sailed through Congress today and went to President Eisenhower for signature. The controversial provision to make membership in the party illegal was knocked out of the bill.

The Senate passed the compromise measure by a roll-call vote of 79 to 0. The House of Representatives promptly approved the legislation, which had been the big stumbling block in congressional quelling plans.

B.C. Discovery Hastens Cancer Cure

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia Research Council today announced discovery of a chemical which may hasten a cure for cancer by "several years."

Council officials described the production of the synthetically-compounded chemical, labelled with the homely title of UMP, as the most important fundamental discovery ever made at the council. It was produced by Dr. H. Gohind Khorana, a 32-year-old Indian researcher.

Feller Hurls Cleveland To Ninth-Straight Win

CLEVELAND (AP)—Bob Feller won his 11th victory of the season and Cleveland Indians their ninth in a row today as the Tribe edged Detroit Tigers and Ned Garver 4-3 in the first game of a double header.

The big blow for Cleveland was a two-run homer by rookie outfielder Dave Pope in the second.

Detroit's Ray Boone lifted his 18th homer of the year into the left field stands in the eighth.

VICTORIA NEWSMAN'S MOTHER FOUND SLAIN

Bulk of 6,000 Force Involved

Three Canadian Destroyers May Also Be Withdrawn From Far East Area

By DAVE MCINTOSH

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada "almost certainly" will withdraw a substantial proportion of its 6,000-man brigade from Korea in the next few months, officials said today.

"We expect to reduce our forces in Korea proportionately to the Americans," one authority said.

The U.S. army announced Wednesday night it will withdraw four of its six divisions in Korea in the next few months.

Defense Minister Campney said withdrawal of the First Commonwealth Division—in whole or in part—now is being discussed by senior British Commonwealth army commanders at Camberley, England.

Lt. Gen. Guy Simonds, chief of the general staff, is representing Canada.

Pull-out of Canadian troops from Korea will be made with regard to the wishes of the British and Australians, also part of the First Commonwealth Division, officials said.

They added that it is still too early to say whether the Canadian brigade will be reduced in exactly the same proportion as U.S. forces in the United Nations command.

But with the U.S. taking out four of six divisions, Canada would be able to make a "very substantial" withdrawal by the end of this year.

It was believed Canada might be able to withdraw roughly half of the brigade or possibly two of the three infantry battalions and some of the artillery and tanks.

Pull-out of the last troops in the brigade would depend on how the situation there developed, officials said.

Informants said they feel the Chinese Communists do not want to resume the Korean war, halted by an armistice July 27, 1953.

This was also the opinion expressed by Brig. Gen. Victor Allard several weeks ago on his return from Korea where he commanded the Canadian troops for 14 months.

Withdrawal of some or all of Canada's three destroyers in Korea also is under discussion, officials said.

President Syngman Rhee got word of the withdrawal late Wednesday from the South Korean mission in Washington.

An immediate session of the National Assembly was called by Prime Minister Pyun Yung Tai.

The National Assembly voted for an appeal to Washington requesting that no more United States troops be withdrawn until South Korean troops are strong enough to take "unilateral action."

Bunche Named To High-Ranking Position in UN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)—Nobel prize winner Dr. Ralph J. Bunche was named today to a new United Nations post that will make him the highest-ranking American in the world organization.

Bunche's promotion, intended to become effective Jan. 1, 1955, was announced at a news conference by secretary-general Dag Hammarskjöld.

Hammarskjöld said that Bunche will have the rank of undersecretary without portfolio, will be "more easily available for missions" to trouble spots around the globe than other new undersecretaries named to head specific departments.

Despair Marks EDC Meeting

BRUSSELS, Belgium (UP)—French Premier Pierre Mendes-France warned grimly today that unless his plan for a modified treaty is accepted the proposed European Defense Community will die.

In a full-dress to the six-nation EDC conference here, Mendes-France also warned that failure to accept his proposal would cause his government to fall and confront the North Atlantic (NATO) alliance with a major crisis.

Mendes-France spoke as the conference opened in an atmosphere of division and despair over the French proposals would be undignified," he was quoted as having said.

However, Mendes-France emphasized that the facts of French political life were such that the changes he has demanded must be accepted.

The other five nations insist, equally strongly, that his revisions which confine German troops to the proposed army to their own soil and lessen the supra-national character of the treaty are crippling and unacceptable.

LONDON (UP)—Britain was reported today as ready to take almost any kind of European Defense Community arrangement in preference to none at all.

These sources reported that the greater part of the meeting was taken up with Mendes-France's defense of his proposal to water down the European army plan.

The French premier opened his talk with a detailed explanation of the political situation in his country when he took over the government in June.

He described as "regrettable" the fact that France had held up ratification of the EDC plan so long, but promised that there would be no further delay.

"Any further postponement would be undignified," he was quoted as having said.

Son Discovers Body Of Mrs. D. E. Loughnan

WHITE ROCK, B.C. (BUP)—An inquest was ordered today into the mysterious death of Mrs. D. E. Loughnan, 65, who was found dead in her home Wednesday, possibly a victim of foul play.

RCMP said the body of the woman, a widow, was discovered by her son, Brian, 31, who came here from Victoria for a visit.

The case was cloaked in mystery today.

An investigation was continuing but it was not established how the woman died or whether she was a victim of foul play, police said.

RCMP were awaiting a medical report from Dr. Lewis T. Herberts of New Westminster, who was called into the case last night. The inquest will be held here Friday night.

Mrs. Loughnan's son was questioned by RCMP today.

Loughnan told police he had come to White Rock from Vancouver Island Tuesday to visit his mother. He said he slept in the house Tuesday night and heard no noise or disturbance but when he awoke he found her dead four or five hours.

RCMP were believed to have begun a search for a possible murder weapon.

Mr. Loughnan was, until recently, a reporter with the Victoria Colonist.

Two Nova Scotia Youths Held in Street Fight Death

MONTREAL (BUP)—Two youths from Sydney, N.S., were held by police today after the death of a 34-year-old man in a downtown street fight.

James Wristin, a resident of a Salvation Army hostel, was found dead, apparently from a broken neck, on the steps of a nearby building.

Taken into custody were Emile Conn, 20, and a companion of 17 who was not identified.

Building caretaker Gerald Garrity provided police with a description of the Nova Scotian youths. They were picked up at the hostel following a fight involving 20 residents.

No immediate charges were laid against the youths.

Heavy Hail Loss

CALGARY (CP)—Alberta hail losses this year are expected to be "the heaviest in recent history," J. Glenn Elder, managing director of the Alberta hail insurance board, said today.

He said more than 1,000,000 acres of an estimated 14,000,000 acres under cultivation in the province would be damaged approximately 10 per cent.

His statement indicated the unions intended to leave selection of an arbitrator to the federal cabinet.

Canadian Youth Attempts Sex Operation on Himself

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP)—A young Canadian who operated on himself in an attempt to change sex was rushed to Copenhagen hospital today in a critical condition.

His name was withheld by Copenhagen police "for humanitarian reasons."

"He is evidently a very sick man mentally," police inspector Aage Jaeger said.

Police said the young man came to Denmark after learning of the now famous "sex change" of Christine Jorgensen and asked doctors to operate.

Doctors refused, however, under a Danish law barring sexual surgery to foreigners.

Police said the man then became "desperate" and operated on himself and the doctors would have to finish the job he had started.

The case parallels that of Charles Charlotte McLeod, of New Orleans, who returned to America about six months ago after a course of treatment to change sex.

McLeod, too, was at first refused treatment under the "no foreigners" rule so he operated on himself and was taken to hospital for skilled treatment.

Doctors said McLeod took nearly a year to recover from his self-inflicted injuries before returning home to the United States—dressed as a woman.
